Thant-Castro Negotiations Are Continuing

No Progress Is Made In First Round To Remove Red Missiles

HAVANA (AP) — Acting Secretary-General U. Thant went into a second meeting with Prime Minister Fidel Castro today to try to win agreement for U.N. verification of Moscow's promises to remove its missiles from Cuba.

An initial two-hour, 10-minute session between Thant and the bearded Cuban leader made no headway Tuesday, informants said. Castro reportedly stuck to such demands as abandonment by the United States of its Guantanamo naval base in southwestern Cuba.

The United States already has rejected Castro's demands, made last weekend. He also demanded lifting of all economic measures against his regime and guarantees against hit-run raids and invasion preparations.

Despite the reported lack of progress, a spokesman for Thant called the meeting "very useful." A communiqué issued afterward said "Cuba fixed her position and viewpoints with clarity," which informants said meant Castro was unyielding in his demands.

President Osvaldo Dorticos took part in the meeting. The U.S. naval blockade remained in suspension as Thant and Castro prepared for their second session. Thant asked that the blockade of offensive arms shipments to Cuba be lifted before he began his Havana discussions.

In Washington, informants said that although the blockade was suspended, the quarantine fleet of carriers, cruisers, destroyers and submarines was still on station but pulled into a more compact patrol area.

The United States also suspended its aerial surveillance of Cuba to ease the atmosphere for the Thant-Castro meeting.

Thant flew to Havana Tuesday to arrange for confirmation of the removal of the Soviet-installed missile bases under an agreement between Premier Khrushchev and President Kennedy. He also is seeking to set up negotiations to resolve all aspects of the U.S.-Cuban dispute. He told Castro in a letter Sunday he hoped the discussions would result in respect for Cuban sovereignty and in reassurance for other countries which have felt threatened by recent developments in Cuba.

Havana radio said Castro will address the nation on radio and television Thursday "to analyze all the problems of the transcendent moment in which the country is living."

Thant is scheduled to return late today to New York, and negotiations for removal of the missiles are expected to open as soon as he gets back.

The Soviet Union's negotiating team will be headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov. President Kennedy's three-man team includes John J. McCloy, veteran diplomatic troubleshooter; Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric.

DeGaulle Plans To Keep Post

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle announced today he will remain at the helm of the French government even though only about 47 per cent of France's registered voters backed him in a referendum last Sunday. He had a majority of those who did vote, however.

De Gaulle, anxious for a showdown with the nation's politicians, had said he would resign if the results of the referendum were "weak, mediocre or doubtful." But he did not specify the minimum vote that would keep him in office.

The referendum approved a constitutional amendment proposed by De Gaulle to provide for election of presidents by direct vote of the people. All of the nation's politicians except Gaullists contended he had violated the constitution by not presenting his amendment first to Parliament for approval.

Menon Fired from Key Defense Job As Chinese Reds Push into India

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru today took over the Defense Ministry from V. K. Krishna Menon. Menon was named minister of defense production.

A Cabinet communiqué announced the change. It came in a rising tide of criticism of Menon for failing to prepare India's defenses adequately against Chinese Communist attack.

The announcement said President Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan asked Nehru to take over the defense post.

In fact, Nehru has been handling the job for the past week, relegating Menon to the background.

The decision to replace Menon was taken at a Cabinet meeting which outsiders thought must have been heated.

At one point, an information officer was called to handle an important announcement. But then he was sent away with the word that no announcement was coming.

A short time later the Cabinet decided to announce Menon's ouster from the key defense job.

Before the announcement, India reported close quarter fighting between Indian and Red Chinese troops on the potentially most vulnerable invasion route to the plains of Ansam.

A Defense Ministry spokesman said an exchange of fire at fairly close quarters occurred Tuesday near Walong, at the eastern end of the frontier near Buma. It lies in the Lohit River valley, the easiest route through the Himalayas for Red Chinese armies.

The spokesman indicated the Communists might be trying to outflank the Indians at Walong.

In the only other fighting reported in the last 24 hours, the spokesman said Indian troops continued to shell the Chinese around Jang, five miles east of the captured monastery town of Towang on another route to the Assam plains.

The spokesman denied the Indians were attempting a limited offensive in the area, however.

Some 1,000 miles to the north-west in the other battle sector in Ladakh, there was no change in the situation, the spokesman said.

Asked whether the Soviet Union, an ally of Red China, is sending arms to India, the spokesman replied: "Certain equipment was ordered from that country and it is coming according to schedule."

He declined to discuss individual items such as the dozen jet fighters that India has ordered from the Soviet Union.

Since the Red Chinese launched their all-out offensive Oct. 20, the spokesman said, "We have been approaching all friendly countries from which we might get equipment and supplies."

Sources in Moscow have indicated the Soviets will not provide weapons for the Indians to fight the Red Chinese.

Shipments of British infantry weapons have been received here. Britain, the United States and Canada have promised to provide more weapons.

The beginning of what is expected to be large-scale American military shipments to India is expected to arrive here by the end of this week. No details are available here, however.

The Red Chinese, who apparently have paused in their offensive, were reported to have put a large labor corps at work in the Himalayas building roads to bring up reinforcements and supplies.

Rhodes Claims Victory in Fuss With Governor

Adding Machine Rent Deals Given Nod by Pair of Investigators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two accounting firms reported today they found no evidence of fraud in connection with rental or rental purchase payments involving adding machines in the office of State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes, Republican nominee for governor, immediately asserted the report completely demolishes charges made by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. He added he believes the report is a "complete vindication" of examiners in his office.

DiSalle had asserted former Rhodes employees had told him of kicking back, in cash, to "someone" in the auditor's office, the amounts they had charged on their expense accounts to local subdivisions for adding machine rental.

The one-page preliminary report signed by both the accounting firms of Ernst & Ernst, and Price Waterhouse & Co., said their examination covered the period beginning Jan. 1, 1953 and ended Sept. 30 of this year.

They said they examined expense vouchers of examiners and employees in connection with adding machine purchase. The report added:

"Our examination of expense vouchers was limited in scope for the purpose of determining the extent of charges for rental and/or rental - purchases of adding machines, and accordingly did not include a review of other items. Furthermore, in accordance with the authorization of the state records commission original expense reports and supporting documents of examiners and employees have been destroyed for periods ended prior to June 1956; however, with respect to this period, we examined duplicates signed and approved expense reports on a test basis.

"In our opinion the records of the office of the auditor of state of Ohio examined by us disclose that rental - purchase payments reported in the expense reports of examiners and employees were applied against the purchase price of adding machines (and several typewriters) which were delivered with a clear title to the state auditor's office.

"Furthermore, we found no evidence of fraudulent actions in connection with rental and/or rental purchase payments made during the period covered by our examination."

Tuesday, DiSalle tried to get a third investigation going into what he said were illegal practices by Rhodes' examiners. The state emergency board foiled the effort.

The five-member group—three Republicans, two Democrats—did not approve DiSalle's request for $5,000 to hire a third firm to (Continued on Page 2)

Blockade Fleet On Compact Patrol

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has pulled its Cuban blockade fleet into a more compact patrol area, it was learned today.

Exact boundaries of the new picket line were not disclosed, but they were reported well inside the original patrol section which started as much as 600 or 700 miles off Cuba, extending northeastward toward Bermuda and eastward of the Virgin Islands.

The sea blockade was in suspension again today, but the quarantine fleet of carriers, cruisers, destroyers and submarines was still on station.

U. Thant, acting U.N. secretary-general, had asked that the U.S. blockade of offensive arms shipments to Cuba be lifted before he began discussions in Havana with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Absentee Juror Happy If Judge Sends for Him

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Craven didn't show up for jury duty Tuesday but he sent word that he wouldn't mind a bit if the judge sent a deputy to bring him in.

Craven, an insurance agent and Air Force reservist, was called to active duty last weekend.

Once Around Roundtown

TWO CIRCLEVILLE policemen found themselves saddled with an unusual task yesterday. . .

At about 4:50 p. m. a phone call notified headquarters that a goat was on the loose in the vicinity of 176 Hayward Ave. . . Patrolmen Richard Anderson and Dixie Waters latched onto a 50-foot rope and sped to the scene. . .

The goat was apprehended easily enough, but towing stubborn Billie down Court St. wasn't the most pleasant assignment in the world. . . The two officers were the subjects of some smiling glances and a few choice remarks from several passersby. . .

Both patrolmen were rescued from their plight when intercepted by Dave Engle at Court and High Sts. . . He laid claim to the goat—appropriately named "Billie". . . Anderson and Waters, pleased to be rid of their four-legged companion, said the last they saw of the incident was Dave pushing and pulling Billie down W. High St. . . Later reports indicated all ended well when Col. Willie Leist came along with a pickup truck. . . After the exertion of a fair amount of physical force, Billie was loaded up and carted away.

SEVERAL FLOATS which delighted spectators at this year's Pumpkin Show are scheduled to participate in tonight's big Halloween Parade at Chillicothe. . .

A record 171 units have been entered in the parade, a new record for the annual Chillicothe event. The procession will start at 8 p. m.

SHERIFF'S REPORT . . . Received a call concerning trouble in Atlanta. . . Deputies Pontious and Kerns were not greeted by the aroma of spring flowers, but that of the black and white kitten of the village. . .

The animal, innocent of the whole affair, had met death when it encountered some unfriendly dogs. . . A Halloween prankster found him along the road. . . He thought he could find a more appropriate resting place for Mr. Skunk, namely a front porch. . .

The skunk toter was located, instructed to mop the porch and carry the little animal out of town.

THE TANK at Deercreek Auto Parts, apparently unwanted by the New Jersey youngster who had first asked for it, has at last found a home. . .

Jack Clark, owner of the tank, reported today that he had offered the huge vehicle to the Circleville American Legion Post. . . It has been accepted. . .

Present plans call for the huge vehicle to leave the wrecking yard at 11 a. m. Friday, Clark expects to be on hand at the Legion Post on Route 23 to officially present the tank to the Post Commander.

Pressures on Khrushchev May Induce Risky Actions

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Special Correspondent

Nikita Khrushchev has a tough month ahead. And pressures on the Kremlin leader may induce him to take risky actions against his better judgement and once again head a nervous world toward the brink.

A week from now, the U.S.S.R. celebrates the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik takeover of power. The Communist leadership likes to have some spectacular success to display for this anniversary. At the moment, it has none.

Two weeks from now, the Soviet Central Committee has scheduled an important meeting. It could be a grim session, with the Kremlin leadership facing up to some gloomy realities.

No matter how Soviet propaganda paints it for home consumption, Khrushchev backed down in the Cuban crisis and the party leadership is aware of that. The Cuban crisis probably made some high officers within the armed forces unhappy. There are hints of disenchantment with Khrushchev's cold war generalship.

There's an annoying war going on along the Indian-Red Chinese border. It is embarrassing for Soviet policy.

Plans for new pressure on West Berlin may have gone askew because of the Cuban developments. The Cuban crisis probably has made the Red Chinese and the Stalinists around the world furious. The Chinese once again are denouncing "modern revisionism," obviously meaning Khrushchev's policies.

Moscow seems to be running into resistance from the satellite states to plans for coordinating economies of the Communist world under Soviet direction as a reply to the European Common Market.

The Soviet government still struggles with agricultural and industrial problems. For the Russians, all this tends to make Cuba part of the whole cold war picture. Failure of Khrushchev's plans there can embolden his critics who disagree with many other policies.

Red Chinese pressure on India's borders obviously has been in defiance of Khrushchev. It could even be read as a deliberate attempt to place him in an uncomfortable position. Should he side with Red China, he alienates India and the rest of the so-called non-aligned nations. If he sides with India, he widens the Communist schism.

Regarding West Berlin, Khrushchev's position inside and outside the Soviet Union conceivably can bring much pressure on him to put up or shut up. He has promised for four years to sign a treaty with East Germany and to end Western Allied rights in the isolated city.

Khrushchev probably will carry the day in the Communist party Central Committee, but the pressures undoubtedly will remain. They probably can force him eventually to make some sort of move to justify his leadership. That would set the world's nerves on edge once again.

THE "Firefly" nickname derives from four high-intensity xenon gas lights designed to be photographed against a background of stars as they flashed on and off at designated times.

Because the rocket was fired on a northeast heading in the direction of the Soviet Union, the Defense Department announced time and direction of launching in advance. Sources said this was done to alert the Soviet Union so that the Russians would not mistake the rocket for a hostile missile.

Official name of the satellite is NASA, the participating agencies, Anna 1B, with the letters standing for Army, Navy, Air Force and NASA the participating agencies. The "Firefly" nickname derives from four high-intensity xenon gas lights designed to be photographed against a background of stars as they flashed on and off at designated times.

New Idle Pay Claims Show Slight Increase COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — New claims for unemployment compensation increased only slightly in the week ended Oct. 27—up to 14,753 from the 14,721 in the previous week, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

Average weekly number of new claims filed each week in October of last year was 14,511.

Continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more dropped from 81,135 in the week ended Oct. 20 to 80,913 in the week ended Oct. 27.

Westfall Board Buys Land for New School

Land was purchased today for the new centralized Westfall High School.

The transaction was completed by school officials and John R. and Frances B. Hildenbrand for 47,906 acres of land in Muhlenberg Twp. Purchase price of the land was $500 per acre.

The proposed location of the new high school, which will house students of Williamsport, Atlanta, Jackson, Monroe and Darby, is at Pherson at the intersection of Route 56 and the Williamsport - Darbyville Road.

Judson Lanman, executive head of the school district, said today that advertising for contractors' bids would begin as soon as architects drawings are completed. The firm of Cellan and Foley of Columbus is completing the plans.

Westfall voters passed the $1,395,000 bond issue at the May Primary Election for the new building after two previous unsuccessful bids.

Hearing Set Nov. 30 on Scioto Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The five-member Scioto Conservancy Court has set a public hearing for 10 a. m. Nov. 30 on the 11-project flood control and water supply plan of the Scioto Conservancy District.

The court is composed of common pleas court judges of Franklin, Pickaway, Ross, Pike and Scioto counties.

The hearing in City Hall council chambers is required prior to the court's decision whether the official plan will accomplish the purposes for which the district was created.

If the court approves the plan, the district trustees will proceed with the appraisal of benefits and damages to property taken and affected by the plan. This will require a year.

District trustees filed their $79.6 million plan with the conservancy court last Friday. Objectors have 10 days from the filing date to make written protests.

JFK's No-Invasion Pledge Void If Castro Threatens

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's pledge not to invade Cuba—part of the proposed crisis settlement — does not rule out force should Cuba pose a major new threat to the hemisphere, U.S. officials said today.

American policy toward Fidel Castro's government will remain as it was before Soviet missiles arrived on the Caribbean island, they said, and Washington's efforts to isolate the Havana regime and to prevent it from sowing communism will continue. If Cuba brandishes another major threat at the Americas, the United States remains committed to defensive measures including use of force.

This interpretation of Kennedy's assurances against an invasion of Cuba given Saturday to Soviet Premier Khrushchev was supplied by high ranking U.S. authorities. Kennedy is expected to say more about it at his news conference Thursday.

The President's guarantee does not take effect unless Khrushchev goes through with his part of the deal — to withdraw nuclear-capable Soviet weapons from Cuba.

3 Sisters Each Has Baby In 10-Day Span

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A trio of sisters in Dayton have this togetherness thing down pat.

All they have had babies within a 10-day period, all delivered by the same doctor at the same hospital. And they all have had rooms on the same floor in the hospital.

Mrs. Joseph V. Gaccetta's 5-pound, 7-ounce girl was delivered Oct. 19. Then came a 7-pound, 11-ounce boy for Mrs. Edward Fuchs Oct. 25 and a 10-pound, 2-ounce boy for Mrs. Edward C. Woolf Jr. last Monday.

Mrs. Woolf's boy "will be so big, she'll have to hand everything down," quipped her twin sister, Mrs. Gaccetta.

There apparently was heavy betting on who would come through with the first baby. "I was going to be first," said Mrs. Fuchs. "I'm usually the early one, but I came in second," Mrs. Gaccetta, who won, said she should have been last "because I'm the slowest one in the family."

The babies were the third for Mrs. Fuchs, the second for Mrs. Gaccetta and the first for Mrs. Woolf.

Thant-Castro Negotiations Are Continuing

No Progress Is Made In First Round To Remove Red Missiles

HAVANA (AP)—Acting Secretary-General U. Thant went into a second meeting with Prime Minister Fidel Castro today to try to win agreement for U.N. verification of Moscow's promises to remove its missiles from Cuba.

An initial two-hour, 10-minute session between Thant and the bearded Cuban leader made no headway Tuesday, informants said. Castro reportedly stuck to such demands as abandonment by the United States of its Guantanamo naval base in southwestern Cuba.

The United States already has rejected Castro's demands, made last weekend. He also demanded lifting of all economic measures against his regime and guarantees against hit-run raids and invasion preparations.

New Charge Filed against Jim Rhodes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Democratic leadership has piled another charge of law violation atop those it had leveled previously at the Republican candidate for governor, State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman alleged Tuesday that the taxpayers are paying $15,840 in annual salary of a man Coleman identified as spending full time running Rhodes' campaign.

Subject of the charge is Elmer A. Keller. He was unavailable for comment, but Rhodes denied any violation of law. The auditor explained that Keller is a "non-working" chairman of his campaign committee.

Coleman said that in Rhodes' political advertisements in the newspapers, Keller was listed as chairman of the Rhodes for Governor Committee. Keller's salary, Coleman said, is paid from state funds by Rhodes, with Keller listed by the auditor's office as director of his Bureau of Inspection.

Ohio law makes no provision for such a post, Coleman said.

Keller was Rhodes' service director when the GOP candidate was mayor of Columbus.

Coleman noted that Edward A. Stowell, Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's re-election campaign manager, quit his $15,000-a-year state post as DiSalle's assistant in order to work for DiSalle's candidacy.

The referendum approved a constitutional amendment proposed by De Gaulle to provide for election of presidents by direct vote of the people. All of the nation's politicians except Gaullists contended he had violated the constitution by not presenting his amendment first to Parliament for approval.

The transaction was completed by school officials and John R. and Frances B. Hildenbrand for 47,906 acres of land in Muhlenberg Twp. Purchase price of the land was $500 per acre.

The proposed location of the new high school, which will house students of Williamsport, Atlanta, Jackson, Monroe and Darby, is at Pherson at the intersection of Route 56 and the Williamsport - Darbyville Road.

Judson Lanman, executive head of the school district, said today that advertising for contractors' bids would begin as soon as architects drawings are completed. The firm of Cellan and Foley of Columbus is completing the plans.

Westfall voters passed the $1,335,000 bond issue at the May Primary Election for the new building after two previous unsuccessful bids.

Hearing Set Nov. 30 on Scioto Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The five-member Scioto Conservancy Court has set a public hearing for 10 a. m. Nov. 30 on the 11-project flood control and water supply plan of the Scioto Conservancy District.

The court is composed of common pleas court judges of Franklin, Pickaway, Ross, Pike and Scioto counties.

The hearing in City Hall council chambers is required prior to the court's decision whether the official plan will accomplish the purposes for which the district was created.

If the court approves the plan, the district trustees then will proceed with the appraisal of benefits and damages to property taken and affected by the plan. This will require a year.

District trustees filed their $79.6 million plan with the conservancy court last Friday. Objectors have 10 days from the filing date to make written protests.

Pressures on Khrushchev May Induce Risky Actions

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Nikita Khrushchev has a tough month ahead. And pressures on the Kremlin leader may induce him to take risky actions against his better judgement and once again lead a nervous world toward the brink.

A week from now, the U.S.S.R. celebrates the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik takeover of power. The Communist leadership likes to have some spectacular success to display for this anniversary. At the moment, it has none.

Two weeks from now, the Soviet Central Committee has scheduled an important meeting. It could be a grim session, with the Kremlin leadership facing up to some gloomy realities.

No matter how Soviet propaganda paints it for home consumption, Khrushchev backed down in the Cuban crisis and the party leadership is aware of that. The Cuban crisis probably made some high officers within the armed forces unhappy. There are hints of disenchantment with Khrushchev's cold war generalship.

There's an annoying war going on along the Indian-Red Chinese border. It is embarrassing for Soviet policy.

Plans for new pressure on West Berlin may have gone askew because of the Cuban developments. The Cuban crisis probably has made the Red Chinese and the Stalinists around the world furious. The Chinese once again are denouncing "modern revisionism," obviously meaning Khrushchev's policies.

Moscow seems to be running into resistance from the satellite states to plans for coordinating economies of the Communist world under Soviet direction as a reply to the European Common Market.

The Soviet government still struggles with agricultural and industrial problems.

For the Russians, all this tends to make Cuba part of the whole cold war picture. Failure of Khrushchev's plans there can embolden his critics who disagree with many other policies.

Red Chinese pressure on India's borders obviously has been in defiance of Khrushchev. It could even be read as a deliberate attempt to place him in an uncomfortable position. Should he side with Red China, he alienates India and the rest of the so-called non-aligned nations. If he sides with India, he widens the Communist schism.

Regarding West Berlin, Khrushchev's opposition inside and outside the Soviet Union conceivably can bring much pressure on him to put up or shut up. He has promised for four years to sign a treaty with East Germany and to end Western Allied rights in the isolated city.

Khrushchev probably will carry the day in the Communist party Central Committee, but the pressures undoubtedly will remain. They probably can force him eventually to make some sort of move to justify his leadership.

That would set the world's nerves on edge once again.

The first stage pushed the package to the edge of space. The second fired for two minutes, then shut down and coasted for 25 minutes before restarting its engine to eject its satellite into orbit high above Ethiopia at a speed of nearly 18,000 miles an hour.

Officials reported that clear signals were being received from the payload.

Because the rocket was fired on a northeast heading in the direction of the Soviet Union, the Defense Department announced time and direction of launching in advance. Sources said this was done to alert the Soviet Union so that the Russians would not mistake the rocket for a hostile missile.

Official name of the satellite is NASA, the participating agencies, Anna 1B, with the letters standing for Army, Navy, Air Force and NASA the participating agencies. The "Firefly" nickname derives from four high-intensity xenon gas lights designed to be photographed against a background of stars as they flashed on and off at designated times.

New Idle Pay Claims Show Slight Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New claims for unemployment compensation increased only slightly in the week ended Oct. 27—up to 14,753 from the 14,721 in the previous week, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

Average weekly number of new claims filed each week in October of last year was 14,511.

Continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more dropped from 81,135 in the week ended Oct. 20 to 80,913 in the week ended Oct. 27.

Once Around Roundtown

TWO CIRCLEVILLE policemen found themselves saddled with an unusual task yesterday. . .

At about 4:50 p. m. a phone call notified headquarters that a goat was on the loose in the vicinity of 176 Hayward Ave. . . Patrolmen Richard Anderson and Dixie Waters latched onto a 50-foot rope and sped to the scene. . .

The goat was apprehended easily enough, but towing stubborn Billie down Court St. wasn't the most pleasant assignment in the world. . . The two officers were the subjects of some smiling glances and a few choice remarks from several passersby. . .

Both patrolmen were rescued from their plight when intercepted by Dave Engle at Court and High Sts. . . He laid claim to the goat—appropriately named "Billie". . .

Anderson and Waters, pleased to be rid of their four-legged companion, said the last they saw of the incident was Dave pushing and pulling Billie down W. High St. . .

Later reports indicated all ended well when Col. Willie Leist came along with a pickup truck. . . After the exertion of a fair amount of physical force, Billie was loaded up and carted away.

SEVERAL FLOATS which delighted spectators at this year's Pumpkin Show are scheduled to participate in tonight's big Halloween Parade at Chillicothe. . .

A record 171 units have been entered in the parade, a new record for the annual Chillicothe event. The procession will start at 8 p. m.

SHERIFF'S REPORT . . . Received a call concerning trouble in Atlanta. . . Deputies Pontious and Kerns were not greeted by the aroma of spring flowers, but that of the black and white kitten of the woods when they arrived in the village. . .

The animal, innocent of the whole affair, had met death when it encountered some unfriendly dogs. . . A Halloween prankster found him along the road. . . He thought he could find a more appropriate resting place for Mr. Skunk, namely a front porch. . .

The skunk toter was located, instructed to mop the porch and carry the little animal out of town.

THE TANK at Deercreek Auto Parts, apparently unwanted by the New Jersey youngster who had first asked for it, has at last found a home. . .

Jack Clark, owner of the tank, reported today that he had offered the huge vehicle to the Circleville American Legion Post. . . It has been accepted. . .

Present plans call for the huge vehicle to leave the wrecking yard at 11 a. m. Friday. Clark expects to be on hand at the Legion Post on Route 23 to officially present the tank to the Post Commander.

Times Change Halloween, Too

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—One local resident is certain that Halloween is not what it used to be, and gone are the days of the overturned outhouse, fence gate on the roof and even the mild tiptoe on the window.

Tuesday night a third grade-sized ghost rapped on his door and greeted him with the standard commercial opening: "Trick or Treat?"

Concealing his candy bars, the home owner impishly suggested: "I'll have a trick!"

"All right for you," the surprised youngster shot back. "Just for that I won't stop at your house next year!"

Akron-Youngstown Game Cancelled Over Rules Dispute

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A dispute over substitution rules has resulted in cancellation of Thursday night's football game in Youngstown between unbeaten Akron and thrice-beaten Youngstown.

In Akron, university officials said today they decided to cancel the contest because of futile efforts to resolve the difference between the two schools.

Youngstown University authorities, meanwhile, claimed a forfeit over the undefeated Zips, who have a 6-0 record in the Ohio Conference, because of Akron's refusal to play the game.

Issues in the dispute concern substitution practices. Youngstown which is not affiliated with a football conference, wants the game played under National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) limited substitution rules. Akron wants to use the free substitution rule permitted in the Ohio Conference.

Akron-Youngstown Game Cancelled Over Rules Dispute

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A dispute over substitution rules has resulted in cancellation of Thursday night's football game in Youngstown between unbeaten Akron and thrice-beaten Youngstown.

In Akron, university officials said today they decided to cancel the contest because of futile efforts to resolve the difference between the two schools.

Youngstown University authorities, meanwhile, claimed a forfeit over the undefeated Zips, who have a 6-0 record in the Ohio Conference, because of Akron's refusal to play the game.

Issues in the dispute concern substitution practices. Youngstown which is not affiliated with a football conference, wants the game played under National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) limited substitution rules. Akron wants to use the free substitution rule permitted in the Ohio Conference.

Contempt Rap Faces Students

Ole Miss Rowdies Get Federal Warnings

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Amid signs of new trouble, the Justice Department sent its No. 2 man to the racially troubled University of Mississippi on Halloween eve.

Rowdy students quickly got this warning: quit harassing Negro James H. Meredith or face federal contempt charges.

Nicholas Katzenbach, the deputy attorney general, flew in from Washington in the wake of a fire-cracker barrage on Meredith's dormitory Monday night.

L. L. Love, dean of students, later told a group of students Katzenbach had announced that anyone arrested in future disturbances would be charged with contempt of federal court.

Tom S. Hines, director of student personnel, gave announcements of the warning to the campus radio station for broadcast, quoting Edwin O. Guthman, Justice Department press officer.

The warning of contempt citations apparently grew out of orders issued by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals demanding the enrollment of Meredith and the end of a 114-year-old policy of segregation at Ole Miss.

"I would hate to see any of you boys arrested," Love told a gathering of students in a dormitory. The university called off a football pep rally scheduled for Tuesday night, fearful of the prospects of upwards of 2,000 students meeting in one place to whip up enthusiasm — even for Ole Miss' traditional game with Louisiana State this weekend.

Briley Contends Polls All Wrong

CLEVELAND (AP)—John Marshall Briley, Republican candidate for U.S. Senate, says everyone is picking his opponent, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, to win, but the pollsters have been wrong before.

Briley, campaigning in Northern Ohio during the final week before the election, told campaign workers here Tuesday night:

"We must be realistic; the press as well as the senior senator (Lausche) feels my opponent has the election in the bag. I wish to point out polls were wrong in Ohio in 1960, polls were wrong in 1948 when they said Dewey would win."

"I think the soothsayers are wrong in 1962 when they pick my opponent as the victor."

Soldiers' uniforms are now dressier than at any time since the First World War.

Cuba Refugees Rhodes Claims Still Plan To Attack Castro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cuban Revolutionary Council told Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant Tuesday that it will proceed with armed action against Fidel Castro regardless of any deal he might make with the prime minister.

Castro does not represent Cuban national sovereignty, the council president, Jose Miro Cardona, told Thant in a telegram before the U.N. official left on an observation mission to Havana.

Thus any arrangements with Castro "will not detain efforts by Cubans to liberate themselves by force of arms from foreign domination," the revolutionary group declared.

The council, the organization with which the U.S. government deals on Cuban exile matters, told Thant that "Khrushchev has publicly recognized Soviet domination over Cuba."

The Havana regime, the message added, "is a Soviet province in the Americas, and does not involve manifestation of sovereignty."

The council joined other exile groups in asking Thant to include inspection of prisons and concentration camps on his Cuba agenda. It said more than 100,000 political prisoners were being held in violation of the U.N. charter.

Rhodes Cites New York as Growth State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — New York State held the line on taxes, yet accelerated its industrial growth the first five months of this year, says Republican gubernatorial candidate James A. Rhodes. He urges that Ohio take a leaf from the Empire State's book.

Rhodes credits the New York Industrial Development Authority for that state's comparative progress and says his plan, aimed at increasing industry and employment in Ohio, is patterned after it.

Rhodes quoted from the July 1962 issue of "Business in New York State":

"While 33 other states were revising their tax structures upwards, New York held the line and even continued to reduce, repeal or adjust taxes in several areas critical to economic growth."

He said New York gained 170 new industries the first five months of 1962, placing it first in the nation, with California second. He said Ohio, once second, now is third.

New York's employment, Rhodes said in a campaign release Tuesday, has reached an all-time high while Ohio employment in below the level of five years ago. He added that New York's economic growth rate is up 17 per cent from what it was in 1958, while Ohio's, he said, is little more than one per cent.

Mother's Long Journey Futile

HONG KONG (AP)—Mrs. Liang Mei-ying, 60, traveled several hundred miles from her home in Communist China to the nearby Portuguese colony of Macao.

She hid under the deck of a junk and was smuggled into Hong Kong.

A cab deposited her Tuesday at her goal—the doorstep of her son's apartment. She collapsed and died before she could ring the doorbell.

Rhodes Claims

check out the fraud charges already being checked out by Ernst & Ernst and Price-Waterhouse Co.

The later two since Monday have been conducting audits of the auditor's office. Their work was financed with $15,000 released by the Emergency Board last Friday.

DiSalle still had two unofficial investigators of his own looking over Rhodes' records — the two whose preliminary reports to him, he said, started the affair.

But the governor tried Tuesday to get a sanctioned out-of-state accounting firm into the act.

A DiSalle assistant, David Purkey, went before the Emergency Board and said, "The governor expressed some concern that an Ohio firm might be under tremendous pressure . . . to force a result." He pointed out that Ernst & Ernst and Price-Waterhouse are Ohio firms picked by Rhodes.

Finance Director James H. Maloon, presiding as chairman of the Emergency Board for the governor, voted in favor of funds for a third accounting firm. He was the only one.

Sen. William H. Daddens, R-Hamilton; Rep. Ralph Fisher, R-Wayne; Deputy Auditor C. W. Goble (for Rhodes), and Asst. Atty. Gen. William Fournier (for Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy) said they weren't ready to vote at the time—and didn't.

During a 1½ hour session, Daddens and Fisher insisted DiSalle could find a firm among the 2,391 certified public accountants in Ohio to do the job. Purkey argued the board had no authority to restrict eligibility to in-state firms.

Later, Daddens, Fisher and Goble issued a statement saying they would have approved the $5,000 if it were agreed to hire Ohioans.

Purkey had told the board "politics is not involved in this" when Daddens asked whether it might take another firm until after next Tuesday's election to make a report.

Rhodes has said he would stake his gubernatorial candidacy on the probe's outcome. He said again Tuesday he not only expected DiSalle's charges to be disproved, but also that state purchase of 25 adding machines from rentals enabled the supposedly soaked political subdivisions to save money.

Episcopalians Eye Blue Law

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Episcopal clergy have urged church members to "weigh carefully" the pros and cons of the proposed Sunday closing amendment and then vote as their consciences dictate.

This advice was spread throughout the 48-county Diocese of Ohio Tuesday by the Department of Christian Social Relations in letters sent to the 114 parishes and missions. Dr. Stuart G. Cole, director of the Church of the Ascension, Lakewood, is department chairman.

The statement says in part: "Some members of the Episcopal Church favor, some disfavor, the proposed amendment, and valid considerations can be found to support each position."

The statement said it would not suggest that one position is more Christian than the other.

Police Receive Complaints on Vandal Acts

Circleville Police checked out numerous Halloween vandalism complaints last night and early today.

William B. Watts, 534 E. Mound St., reported a fence was torn down at the rear of his property. Nolan Sims, next door at 540 E. Mound, also reported damage to a fence.

A third fence was ripped at 357 E. Franklin. Cement blocks were removed and placed in an alley and several trash cans were overturned in the neighborhood.

Officers reported that a telephone wire was cut at 115 Pleasant St.

STILL another report said several masked youths threw apples in a hallway and removed a pumpkin and tore paper from a decorated bicycle in the upstairs area of the Gordon apartments, Main and Scioto Sts.

The outbreak of vandalism caused Police Chief Robert Temple to day to warn Halloween pranksters on destruction of property. He said known violators will be apprehended and booked.

The chief urged parents to caution their children against destructive pranks prior to tonight's Halloween festivities.

Lawyer Given Stiff Penalty

CLEVELAND (AP)—Assistant County Prosecutor John J. McCarthy calls the sentence passed on former attorney Paul L. Herzbrun pleaded guilty Oct. 15 to 12 counts of forging and passing $700 in stolen checks.

Judge Artl made five of the forgery terms against Herzbrun years. The ex-lawyer is married and the father of three children.

"As a former attorney," the judge told him, "you know too well the magnitude of your crimes. Aside from the black eye you have given the legal profession, I'm deeply disturbed to find any lawyer consorting with criminals."

Texas leads the nation in the number of counties. The Lone Star State has 254. Next comes Georgia with 159. Kentucky is third with 120 counties.

THE BERGER HOSPITAL

NORTH PICKAWAY STREET
CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

The undersigned members of the Pickaway County Medical Society, and the Medical Staff of Berger Hospital, urge your support of the 1.5 mill expansion levy for Berger Hospital for these reasons:

1. Present hospital capacity and facilities are inadequate to meet the community needs.
2. The community is growing rapidly and the shortage of beds and facilities is becoming more acute year by year.
3. A larger hospital will attract additional family doctors and specialists into the county.

County	Population	No. of Drs.	Hospital Beds
Fayette	25,000	15	74
Pickaway	37,000	9	30

4. A community must have adequate school, hospital and church facilities to insure continued growth and to prevent eventual stagnation.

Ocean Far from Silent

Scientists attached to the United States Office of Naval Research are watching TV at bimini, The Bahamas. Instead of the usual soap operas or westerns, however, these men are watching a drama which could be the prelude to a number of important underwater activities, including the planting of cameras in vulnerable coast sites to maintain a vigilance over enemy submarines.

Most persons think of the ocean as a mystifying, silent world of creatures and plant life which have little practical value to mankind except as a secondary food source. It is a mysterious, unexplored region, but it is far from silent.

The sounds of the ocean are as numerous as those of a barnyard adjoining a construction site.

Recording and indentifying the sound of the ocean are the twin objectives of the navy laboratory in bimini. Its catalog of ocean sounds may some day be a vital weapon in the detection and destruction of marauding submarines.

New Spring Shoes

"He walks joyously, with a spring in his step!"

How often this has been said of teenagers who bound vigorously along the street, grinning with robust good health, like the late Teddy Roosevelt in the midst of listening to a very funny joke.

And now, from Sydney in Australia, comes the word that pedestrians there will find the going easier because of the invention of shoe heels which have steel springs built into the rubber. This absorbs the impact of the shoe on the pavement surface, and triggers off a kick to the next step.

The inventor, Grant McDonagh, hopes to market the heel for general use: greatest benefits are expected to be derived by people who must walk, including mail carriers, bill collectors, meter readers, can-

Certainly the clanking, hammering, chirping and donkey-like laughs recorded by the Navy sound like anything but ocean inhabitants.

Familiarization with the ocean has only recently begun in earnest. The underwater world is finally being recognized as something more than a vast wasteland to be overlooked in the search for new worlds of conquest. Its material riches have been estimated to exceed several fold all the minerals discovered on land, but its treasures are virtually untapped.

Man, in more peaceful times, will be able to make better use of the oceans than as avenues for submarines or traps for them. But as in many other areas of exploration and development, the military is leading the way because of its need for ever greater defense progress.

It would not be surprising though if, after the naval scientists have concluded their ocean eavesdropping, civilian researchers find their curiosity piqued beyond the point of further ignorance.

vassers and salesmen.

So there it may be: Australia's answer to the loosening of Commonwealth trade ties with a product which deserves to be welcomed in the markets of the world. How appropriate the heel should have been invented in the land of the kangaroo.

It would be fitting to call these shoes kangaroos, in honor of the leaping animal which inspired them. And the smaller ones for children might be called wallabies.

But the big questions are still unanswered. Are they dangerous to wear around the house? Might not a chap leap from cellar to attic and go through the skylight in one leap? Can people shod with them jump over motor traffic?

On the answer to the last question may depend the future of busy shopping areas and pedestrian malls.

Watching Hurricanes

The U. S. hurricane watch in the Caribbean has been intensified, and understandably so. This is hurricane season and, depending on its location and course, a new one could wreak no end of havoc.

Hurricanes formerly could wander about at will in oceans, and unless they capsize a boat or made a beeline for land, few persons knew they were in existence. But a hurricane no longer has any privacy.

No sooner does one make its appearance in the Caribbean, for instance, than the news is flashed up and down the Atlantic seaboard, and inland. From that moment until it strikes or fizzles out, it is watched and its velocity and direction reported on.

But never before were the U. S. Navy and Air Force so overwhelmingly committed to action in hurricane areas.

Trick-or-Treat Is Fun

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—I like Halloween. In a fearful time it is one scare you can count on.

To an untidy middle-aged person, life becomes a kind of constant haloween, encumbered by ghostly restraints that point spectral fingers of warning against any vision of plenty.

One is educated also to a growing fear of the knock on the door. But it isn't really frightening. You are usually bored. When you answer the door, you don't feel that any hard-muscled men will be waiting there to pull you toward the incinerator—or at least warn you to pay an overdue bill.

No, alas, the man who raps upon your panel is likely either to try to sell you life insurance or a children's encyclopedia, or remind you it is time to vote for the politician of his choice.

I have learned never to admit a political partisan into my apartment. And insurance and book salesmen hold for me neither terror nor adventure. I'm already overbought in those fields.

But along about now I really enjoy answering the door. We also enjoy building up stock of candy to reward the query: "Trick or treat."

Once when I was younger, I replied, "There's no treat here. What's your trick?"

The child squirmed unhappily. He knew no trick. Then I squirmed too. Sticky wicket.

Children today would rather be feted than play tricks. Probably it's better that way. Maybe.

When the thunder of childish fists beats a tattoo on our door tonight, I know it will open to admit a motley crew of costumed chowls and beasts.

Our cat, Lady Dottie, is bound to go up and rub herself against a pair of small legs.

"How can she tell me?" our outraged and disguised daughter, Tracy Ann, who is 9, will say.

"Doesn't she know I'm a monster?"

Yes, indeed. What children don't realize is that the way they dress themselves to be on Halloween is the way their parents and other friends think of them all the year long.

But to know a monster is to love one. And particularly if you buy it shoes.

Preacher's Son Sets Church Afire

MARION, Ohio (AP)—A minister's son who told authorities he was tired of attending church services three times a week faced charges of arson and malicious destruction of property here today, police said.

The 16-year-old boy was arrested after separate fires caused a total of $3,200 damage Monday night to the Pilgrim Holiness Church and its parsonage. Most of the damage—$2,500—was to the parsonage.

Fire Chief Kenneth Wakely quoted the boy's father, pastor of the church, as saying he reprimanded his son for misbehaving at church services Sunday night.

The youth was held at the county detention home pending the charges which were to be filed later today, Wakely said.

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Dear Doctor: I keep hearing a hissing noise but hesitate to admit this to anyone but a doctor.

Mr. G. K. (Conn.) Dear Mr. K.: Don't be afraid or embarrassed. Many senior citizens hear the same noise. The cause ranges from a wax plug pressing on the drum to serious abnormalities deep within the ear.

For inner ear trouble your doctor may prescribe hot tea, nicotine acid and a diet with almost no salt.

Ear noise doesn't mean mental illness — unless the sounds begin to whisper secret messages!

Dear Doctor: Is it true that leprosy and psoriasis are both the same disease?

Mrs. J. N. (N.C.) Dear Mrs. N.: No! The red-bordered shiny scales of psoriasis stem from some chemical defect in the skin's outer layer. Leprosy's lumps, destroyed nerves and infected skin ulcers are caused by a special tuberculosis-like germ.

Psoriasis isn't contagious; leprosy is, in tropical climates. Healed leprosy protects against tuberculosis; psoriasis doesn't.

Dear Doctor: Can you recommend any little book about diseases?

Mrs. D. K. (Pa.) Dear Mrs. K.: Here are a few of the many you can choose from.

(1) The New American Medical Dictionary and Health Manual — a pocketbook — by Robert E. Rothenberg, M. D. (Signet, N.Y., 1962).

(2) The Complete Medical Guide by Benjamin Miller, M. D. (Simon and Shuster, N.Y., 1956).

(3) And for imaginary ills, Hypochondriac's Kook Book by Herbert Klauber (Metro, Chicago, 1962). But watch out! Its belly laughs can tear your stitches!

Dear Doctor: Can women with overactive thyroid glands still have children?

Mrs. D. M. (Calif.) Dear Mrs. M.: Any upset in the delicate balance of hormone-chemicals reduces your chances. Both sluggish and overactive thyroid glands slow and stop menstrual flow. But medication and operation can turn overactive glands back to normal.

Dear Doctor: Are there any tests which can show hardening of the arteries?

Mrs. J. L. (Pa.) Dear Mrs. L.: Here are a few: Pulse beats around wrist, ankle and foot disappear. Skin grows pale and cold, then shiny, thin and brown.

X-rays can outline the calcium along hardened major arteries and your doctor can feel pipe-like vessels rolling under his trained fingertips.

Justified Fright

A friend of mine, a knowing man, writes to me:

"The other night I heard (President Kennedy's) Cuban speech in my car — alone. I could not believe I was hearing correctly the quaver in his voice. I don't believe, had I just walked up to a radio without advance warning, I would have known it was Kennedy speaking. The oratorical flourishes, the heavy Harvard accent... But it was hard, as I say, to believe that here was a President of the United States talking in one of the most critical periods of our history (probably the most) and scared to death."

It just goes to show how differently men respond to the same thing. President John Kennedy, in that Cuban speech, committed his nation to the prospect of immediate nuclear war. He committed unknown numbers of human beings to death. He knows, from personal experience, what death in war can do to a family. By one decision by a few spoken words, by several signatures on documents, he gave up the immediate prospects of a negotiated peace.

What does my friend want?

Does he expect the President to do a jig? Does he expect him to put on a politician's smile? Of course, the President's voice had in it a quaver, a tremor, a suppressed emotion. Of course, he was frightened by the consequences of his act.

The country responded more realistically than anyone anticipated. Practically, there is no opposition to the President's blockade of Cuba; the only criticism has been that he waited too long.

The NATO Powers have stood firmly with the United States. The Organization of American States has stood solidly behind the United States. Only U Thant, the Acting Secretary General of the United Nations, delivered a ridiculous speech which missed the point altogether, namely, that the missile bases aimed at us from Cuban soil must be completely and totally dismantled. If the Cubans wait too long, American public opinion will demand that there be no talking until Fidel and Raul Castro and their pen of Soviet stooges shall have left the country for refuge in Soviet Russia.

It is difficult for me to understand the complaint in the paragraph which I quote above. The objection seems to be that the President uses the English language well but with what has become normal speech in the Boston-Cambridge area whence he comes, a manner of speaking certainly not painful to the ear and as pleasant as that of a southern colonel. But my friend seems to feel that the President was scared to death. Not to death, but scared certainly, as any decent man would be in the face of the decision he had to make.

But President Kennedy did make his decision and it was carried forward by staff work that astounded the world. As a matter of fact, Khrushchev, with all his brilliant espionage, was caught off base and it took days to catch on to the completeness of the boycott and the certainty that if his ships attempted to run through our network of ships and planes, they would be sunk. Many of the Russian ships turned away.

I cannot be partisan when my country is in peril. The record of our errors in Cuba is a long one. It began with our failure to spot Fidel Castro in the Bogotaza of 1948 and it has continued for many years, through many Administrations, including the Eisenhower and Kennedy Administrations.

Our major problem is to drive Russian Imperialism out of the American continents. If Khrushchev has used the Cuban episode as a diversion from our adamant position concerning Berlin, he has made a mistake. We shall defeat him in the Caribbean and we shall defeat him at the Berlin Wall of Shame. The efficiency of the first 24 hours of our blockade of Cuba ought to prove beyond doubt not only that we are ready and that we are stout of heart but that the American people are united.

Khrushchev assumed that because President Kennedy is soft-spoken and well-mannered, he is a softie. Khrushchev does not know the cold, steely anger of an Irishman when he has been lied to. We suggest that Khrushchev spend a week in South Boston and find out what he is up against. But there is no swagger; there is the humility and sorrow that is characteristic of this people.

U.S., British Aid to India Brings Hope in Border Fight

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian forces laid down a barrage of mortar fire and launched probing attacks today as the Red Chinese drive showed signs of slowing down—at least temporarily.

Battles appeared to be shaping up in the Himalayas as both sides poured in reinforcements. For the first time, the Defense Ministry told of Indian forces using mortars and holding their own against the Communists. The only setback reported today was loss of one small military outpost on the Tibetan border in the center of the North East Frontier Agency.

With American and British weapons to be rushed here by air, a feeling of confidence swept the nation and shook it out of the despair created by a series of retreats since the Communists launched their offensive Oct. 20.

Major battles appeared to be shaping up near the Buddhist monastery town of Towang and at Walong, 250 miles to the east near the Burma border.

Strong Indian forces were being rushed to the 2½-mile-high Se Pass to try to blunt a Chinese threat to the thickly populated Assam plains. Informants said the Indians recaptured Jang, four miles east of Chinese-held Towang, which put them in a better position for defense on Assam.

Near the Burmese border, the Chinese were reported still on the outskirts of Walong.

On the Ladakh front, 1,000 miles to the west, the Indian government acknowledged the fall of Demchok and nearby Jara Pass to the Chinese Saturday.

A government spokesman said it was by and large untrue that Indian troops fighting in 3-mile altitude on the Ladakh front were inadequately clothed against winter. The government conceded that the troops there and elsewhere lack sufficient rapid-fire weapons to repel the Chinese attacks.

Responding quickly to an Indian plea for assistance, the United States is expected to start sending modern infantry weapons by the end of this week.

New demands arose for the resignation of Defense Minister V.K. Krishna Menon, blamed by critics for the inadequacy of the military equipment with which the Indian army faced the first Chinese onslaughts in the 10-day-old border war.

A year ago, Menon blocked efforts by top generals to turn to the United States for weapons.

Opposition to Menon is becoming so strong within the ruling Congress party that some observers think Prime Minister Nehru may have to fire his closest associate. So far, Nehru has pushed Menon into the background and taken over most of his duties.

GOP To Stress Racial Crisis

Alabama Republicans
Hope Ole Miss Helps

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Republican candidates hope to ride into office in traditionally Democratic Alabama by stressing the Kennedy administration role in the recent racial crisis in Mississippi.

In their most intense vote-getting campaign in many decades, GOP challengers are putting pressure on the Democrats all along the line from Congress to the county courthouse.

The overriding issue is the use of U.S. marshals and federal troops at the University of Mississippi, where the enrollment of Negro student James Meredith touched off violence.

Republican candidates have reminded the voters again and again that it was a Democratic administration in Washington which mobilized the federal forces.

Democratic nominees quickly denounced the federal action, too, and recalled that a Republican president, Dwight D. Eisenhower, sent troops into Little Rock, Ark., during the integration uprising there in 1957.

One GOP group, the Montgomery County Committee, keynoted the party's battlecry with this slogan in newspaper ads: "Strike back at Kennedy—vote Republican."

Democratic candidates who normally would win without a fight have Republican opposition for the U.S. Senate; three of Alabama's eight seats in the House; two statewide offices; 28 seats in the 141-member legislature, and numerous county jobs.

Eisenhower endorsed Rockefeller as a man of integrity, sharpness of mind, energy and moral courage.

In addition to giving Republicans much credit for laying the groundwork for Kennedy's Cuban policy, Eisenhower again sharply attacked domestic policies of the Kennedy administration.

Ike Credits GOP for Big U.S. Buildup

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says Republicans had a major role in giving the United States the armed strength that enabled it to take a strong stand against the Soviet Union in the Cuba crisis.

Eisenhower also told 10,000 cheering Republicans at a dinner that GOP leaders had helped leaders help spur President Kennedy to forceful action.

Although tensions are now eased, the Republican leader said, "We have no reason to relax" and the Soviet threat "We will bury you" still stands.

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, seeking re-election, shared the platform at the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium with Eisenhower, who has been campaigning through the country in support of GOP candidates.

Eisenhower endorsed Rockefeller as a man of integrity, sharpness of mind, energy and moral courage.

In addition to giving Republicans much credit for laying the groundwork for Kennedy's Cuban policy, Eisenhower again sharply attacked domestic policies of the Kennedy administration.

Use Psychology In Enticing Junior To Work

By ELEANOR ROSS
Now that full-time maids are about as scarce as whooping cranes, a mother is justified in expecting members of her family to pitch in and help with the housework.

The girls usually co-operate, but it requires a special effort to get a teen-age son working. Nagging or commanding him to pick up his belongings, to mow the lawn or to shovel the snow will often only make him balk all the more.

"Applied psychology" is much better.

To encourage the habit of helping, promise a reward occasionally, along with the sly but subtle hint that the chores you would like him to undertake are those that "belong" to a man. No boy should feel that there is anything "sissy" about shoveling snow or mowing a lawn.

Handling window screens is a job that calls for muscles. Doing the screens is a good time for washing windows — and a task that he might well share with you.

For instance, you can suds and rinse the insides while Junior takes over the outside job, which sometimes entails a bit of ladder climbing.

Storm windows and screens should be washed at least once a year — right after they have been taken down for storage.

Show your son how to use a sudsy sponge or cloth on the storm windows and a well-lathered brush for the fine screen mesh. Both can be rinsed with the garden hose, then dried in the sun before being stored.

Point out that cleaning the family car is a "natural" for a boy who hopes to borrow it. Today's cars are easy to take care of since most of them have finishes that require no washing, but just a sudsy hosing-down.

Special gadgets that get the job done quickly and easily include king-size, overstuffed foam-rubber mitts and long-handled hose attachments with self-sudsing rotating brushes. The garden hose is good for rinsing — as well as wetting down the car to remove loose dirt before washing.

And just in case Junior hadn't thought of it, remind him that windows, fenders and white wall tires need special attention, as does the interior. He is likely to be much more careful of that car if he has cleaned it himself.

A clean car, of course, can't be kept in a messy garage — so there's another responsibility that's right up his alley. Both garages and basements are among the most neglected areas of the home, and really benefit from a good general clean-up.

While a boy is more often inclined to do outdoor chores with a masculine aura, heavy indoor cleaning often calls for manly strength.

Washing walls, floors and Venetian blinds are other tasks that shouldn't damage his masculine pride. And that also goes for keeping his room tidy and neat.

Although cleaning his room is really his mother's responsibility, a boy should still develop the daily habit of putting things away, making the bed and wiping dust and soil from surface areas.

And then there's no reason why Junior shouldn't occasionally lend a hand with the family laundry, either. Any boy who plans to be an engineer might well familiarize himself with the household equipment and that certainly goes for the washer.

Once a teen-ager learns to fit household duties into his weekly routine, his mother's job will be easier — and he will acquire valuable training for that big day when he has a home of his own.

Dear Abby: The Punch Line!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow over 50 years old. I baby-sit in the neighborhood to earn a few extra dollars. A woman telephoned and asked if I would sit with her two children. She wanted me to come at 5:00 P.M., give them their supper, bathe them and put them to bed. I asked how much she paid and she said "Twenty-five cents an hour and ALL YOU CAN EAT!" I told her I was sorry but I was busy I was really insulted and think I could have thought of a better answer for her. What would YOU have told her?

INSULTED

DEAR INSULTED: I'd have told her I couldn't eat enough to make it worthwhile.

DEAR ABBY: I am failing geometry because of my teacher. Every time I look at him my stomach does flip flops. He is tall, thin, has blue eyes and sandy hair and wears dark-rimmed glasses. He is not married. I have stayed after school to get special help, but when I'm near him I can't concentrate on what he's saying. My other grades are A's and B's. What should I do?

GOT A CRUSH

DEAR GOT: The "crush" is sure to pass but YOU might not unless you pursue a different angle. School is for learning and not for yearning. You had better concentrate on that for the moment.

DEAR ABBY: I am 46 years old and have gone with Miss X for seven years. She is 34, never been married and, believe me, I could never find a better wife. She wants to get married between now and Christmas but I don't want to be pressured. I have a few bills I want to pay up first. I still owe on a new car. Also I plan to expand my business, which will take some of my capital, and my mother depends on me for most of her support. Miss says she doesn't mind helping out as she has some money saved. She also agreed to continue working after we are married. But I still think it would be unfair to marry her so soon. Don't you agree.

RANDY

Use Psychology In Enticing Junior To Work

By ELEANOR ROSS
Now that full-time maids are about as scarce as whooping cranes, a mother is justified in expecting members of her family to pitch in and help with the housework.

The girls usually co-operate, but it requires a special effort to get a teen-age son working. Nagging or commanding him to pick up his belongings, to mow the lawn or to shovel the snow will often only make him balk at the more.

"Applied psychology" is much better.

To encourage the habit of helping, promise a reward occasionally, along with the sly but subtle hint that the chores you would like him to undertake are those that "belong" to a man. No boy should feel that there is anything "sissy" about shoveling snow or mowing a lawn.

Handling window screens is a job that calls for muscles. Doing the screens is a good time for washing windows — and a task that he might well share with you.

For instance, you can suds and rinse the insides while Junior takes over the outside job, which sometimes entails a bit of ladder climbing.

Storm windows and screens should be washed at least once a year — right after they have been taken down for storage.

Show your son how to use a sudsy sponge or cloth on the storm windows and a well-lathered brush for the fine screen mesh. Both can be rinsed with the garden hose, then dried in the sun before being stored.

Point out that cleaning the family car is a "natural" for a boy who hopes to borrow it. Today's cars are easy to take care of since most of them have finishes that require no washing, but just a sudsy hosing-down.

Special gadgets that get the job done quickly and easily include king-size, overstuffed foam-rubber mitts and long-handled hose attachments with self-sudsing rotating brushes. The garden hose is good for rinsing — as well as wetting down the car to remove loose dirt before washing.

And just in case Junior hadn't thought of it, remind him that windows, fenders and white wall tires need special attention, as does the interior. He is likely to be much more careful of that car if he has cleaned it himself.

A clean car, of course, can't be kept in a messy garage — so there's another responsibility that's right up his alley. Both garages and basements are among the most neglected areas of the home, and really benefit from a good general clean-up.

While a boy is more often inclined to do outdoor chores with a masculine aura, heavy indoor cleaning often calls for manly strength.

Washing walls, floors and Venetian blinds are other tasks that shouldn't damage his masculine pride. And that also goes for keeping his room tidy and neat.

Although cleaning his room is really his mother's responsibility, a boy should still develop the daily habit of putting things away, making the bed and wiping dust and soil from surface areas.

And then there's no reason why Junior shouldn't occasionally lend a hand with the family laundry, either. Any boy who plans to be an engineer might well familiarize himself with the household equipment and that certainly goes for the washer.

Once a teen-ager learns to fit household duties into his weekly routine, his mother's job will be easier — and he will acquire valuable training for that big day when he has a home of his own.

Mrs. Rader Observes 92nd Birthday

Mrs. Louise D. Rader recently observed her 92nd birthday at her home, 1130 S. Court St.

She had many visitors and received 82 cards and letters. Her gifts, included a handcarved brooch made from redwood.

Mrs. Bess Rader Black and family, Dallas, Tex., sent chrysanthemums. Mrs. Rader received a potted plant from Mr. and Mrs. Talmer Wise.

The Calvary EUB church of which she is a member and former teacher sent a birthday cake and Thompson's Restaurant presented her a fried chicken dinner.

Mrs. Goldie Thompson, Laurelville, visited with Mrs. Rader in the afternoon and they enjoyed ice cream and cake.

Mrs. Rader does her own housework and entertains visitors each day. In early life she was a member of Emmett Chapel Church for many years.

Jr. High MYF Has Masquerade

A large barn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Everett was the scene Sunday evening for the Halloween party of the Junior High Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Spiders, black cats and jack-o-lanterns were used to create a ghostly atmosphere.

Howard Davies conducted games and Lorna Poling taught the group some Halloween songs.

The party concluded with a short worship service and a weiner roast.

Jenny Thompson and Diana Slusser assisted with refreshments.

The event will include door prizes, lunch, beverages and round and square dancing to the music of Larry Hines, Ashville. Members are requested to come dressed in their best hayseed costumes.

Should kitchen towels mildew by any chance, wash them at once in soap and water; if stains remain, use a household chlorine bleach.

Designers Show Longer Lines

By SUSAN BARDEN
European and American designers have shown a preference for longer torso lines in their most recent collections.

The majority of the suits have gone in for jackets that are fingertip in length. Some are double-breasted, with set-in sleeves, while others feature the soft shoulder and the three-quarter sleeve.

Dresses with coats and over-blouses also follow this trend. Many of the longer coats attain bulky top interest by using stole collars or ascots in matching or contrasting colors.

With the new jackets, there are slender, straight skirts but for those who like a flare at the hemline, many houses give a choice. Both look very chic with the silhouette.

Dear Abby: The Punch Line!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow over 50 years old. I baby-sit in the neighborhood to earn a few extra dollars. A woman telephoned and asked if I would sit with her two children. She wanted me to come at 5:00 P.M., give them their supper, bathe them and put them to bed. I asked how much she paid and she said "Twenty-five cents an hour and ALL YOU CAN EAT!" I told her I was sorry but I was busy I was really insulted and think I could have thought of a better answer for her. What would YOU have told her?

INSULTED

DEAR INSULTED: I'd have told her I couldn't eat enough to make it worthwhile.

DEAR ABBY: I am failing geometry because of my teacher. Every time I look at him my stomach does flip flops. He is tall, thin, has blue eyes and sandy hair and wears dark-rimmed glasses. He is not married. I have stayed after school to get special help, but when I'm near him I can't concentrate on what he's saying. My other grades are A's and B's. What should I do?

GOT A CRUSH

DEAR GOT: The "crush" is sure to pass but YOU might not unless you pursue a different angle. School is for learning and not for yearning. You had better concentrate on that for the moment.

DEAR ABBY: I am 46 years old and have gone with Miss X for seven years. She is 34, never been married and, believe me, I could never find a better wife. She wants to get married between now and Christmas but I don't want to be pressured. I have a few bills I want to pay up first. I still owe on a new car. Also I plan to expand my business, which will take some of my capital, and my mother depends on me for most of her support. Miss says she doesn't mind helping out as she has some money saved. She also agreed to continue working after we are married. But I still think it would be unfair to marry her so soon. Don't you agree?

Independent Voters Hold Key in Massachusetts Poll

BOSTON (AP)—What the 1,200,000 independent voters in Massachusetts will do is the problem facing two young men fighting for the U.S. Senate seat which both their families cherish.

The combatants are Democrat Edward Moore Kennedy, youngest brother of President Kennedy, and Republican George Cabot Lodge.

President Kennedy occupied the seat before his election to the White House. Lodge's father and great-grandfather both spoke for Massachusetts in the Senate in years gone by.

The 1962 contestants bubble with confidence with just one week left before the Nov. 6 balloting. The scent of success long hanging over the Kennedy headquarters has drifted across the corner of the Boston Common to the Lodge camp.

They are shooting now for the support of the independent voters, who hold the decisive votes in Massachusetts contests.

There are 1.2 million unenrolled voters to the 921,000 Democrats and 608,000 on the Republican lists.

Most of the independents stayed out of the September primary in which Kennedy won the Democratic nomination by a smashing plurality of 311,900 in an 800,000 vote total in his contest with state Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr.

The Kennedy confidence stems from that big win, and from the reaction he has been getting from voters in his day and night campaigning.

The Lodge spokesmen say their private polls show Lodge rates ahead of Kennedy among the independents with the most recent poll showing Lodge ahead 43-40 per cent. Furthermore, a spokesman said, Lodge's percentage is solid for him, except for a 2 per cent of inclined voters. On the other hand, the spokesman said, Kennedy's 40 per cent strength among independents is almost evenly divided between committed and inclined voters.

An Associated Press poll of Massachusetts newspaper publisher, editor and political writer showed they believed Kennedy will win the Senate seat. Straw ballots to 49 newspapers brought 34 replies, all saying Kennedy appears the winner.

There's a third candidate in the field for senator this time, H. Stuart Hughes, a Harvard history professor.

The Cuban crisis may affect Hughes' chance of gaining a significant vote. He has advocated cessation of American nuclear testing, withdrawal of American striking forces from foreign bases and abandonment of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Both Kennedy and Lodge expressed whole-hearted support for the President's quarantine of Cuba.

Kennedy and Lodge are making their first tries for elective public office.

Lodge is 35. Kennedy reached the minimum age for a senator last Feb. 22 when he turned 30. Hughes is 46.

Salute to Industry

Eshelman Mill Serves Dealers Throughout Seven-State Area

John W. Eshelman & Sons Plant from the Air

EDITOR'S NOTE — As a salute to industry, the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce and The Circleville Herald have undertaken to compile and publish a series of background stories on industry and the valuable part it plays in the community. The city is proud of its industries and the vital role they assume in promoting progress here. Today's article outlines production activity at the John W. Eshelman & Sons feed mill.

Dealers throughout a seven state area are supplied Red Rose Feeds for all livestock and poultry by the Circleville plant of John W. Eshelman & Sons, E. Mill St.

This modern plant with capacity in excess of 25 railroad cars of manufactured feed daily, plus truck and trailer shipments, has a payroll of 165 persons.

John W. Eshelman & Sons established their feed mill in Circleville in 1929. The operation was formerly owned by the Heffner Milling Co.

Upon purchasing the mill, the Eshelman firm converted it into an efficient feed manufacturing plant. Bulk handling facilities and conveyor belts to move sacked materials were utilized.

IN THE YEARS that have passed, modernizations have been made continually in the plant and its production facilities. The most recent improvement was the installation of finished feed bins for bulk loading of trucks, together with bulk storage and special equipment for handling and storing 350 tons of minerals.

The Circleville management also operates Eshelman Feed, Inc., a large grain elevator at Washington C. H. which was acquired from the Lloyd Milling Co. in 1939.

In 1948 the company constructed what is now the Red Rose Farm Service on E. Main St. This unit is equipped with grinding and mixing equipment, grain bank storage and bulk handling facilities to better serve Pickaway County farmers.

Striking evidence of the stability of the Circleville community as a manufacturing center—and the satisfaction the Eshelman firm has enjoyed in this business community—is the record of the employees' years of association with Eshelman. Only eight men of the 125 mill employees have less than five years of service.

Those who have been at the Circleville plant since it was started, 32 years ago, are Leslie C. Rihl, plant superintendent; William A. Thomas, plant engineer; and D. J. Carpenter, general manager. Elmer Howard, buyer and traffic manager, joined the firm just one year later.

Nearly one half of all employees have been with the firm more than 15 years. They are: Samuel R. Cline, 30; Mack C. Moore and Gardner Dewey, 29; George Smalley, 27; James Binkley and Merle Greeno, 26; John Jenkins and Roger Lozier, 25; Leslie R. Garrett, 24; Dudley McMill, Harry Bockert and Kenneth Young, 23; George Fowler, L. W. Hoffman and M. F. Kibler, 22; Earl Willis, Delos Humphries, Lloyd Rife, Earl Steele and John McAbee, 21; Herbert Justice, Mart Chaffin, Albert Spangler, Donald Allen, James Justice, Roloff Wolford, Arthur Steele, 20; Carl Wiggins, James Crabtree, Voyden Smith and R. H. THE FIRST general manager of the mill was Robert D. Musser who was a great grandson of the founder of the Eshelman firm. After the death of Mr. Musser in 1946, H. R. Eshelman Jr., also a great grandson of the founder, became general manager. He served in this capacity until 1956 when he transferred to the Lancaster, Penn., offices as a vice-president of the company. Mr. Carpenter succeeded Mr. Eshelman as general manager.

The Circleville plant is one of six operated by the Eshelman firm, a business founded in 1842. Others are located in Lancaster and York, Penn.; Chamblee, Ga.; Sanford, N. C. and Tampa, Fla. Red Rose Feeds are distributed from Ohio to the Atlantic Ocean and from Maine to Florida.

John W. Eshelman founded the business on April 1, 1842, when he started grinding grains and making feed for his neighbors and friends in a mill located near Lancaster, Penn. Three sons of William Penn in 1717 signed the grant for land upon which was to be built the first Eshelman grist mill.

American rifles for the War of 1812 were made in the building which was later to become the first Eshelman mill. Scientific feeding and balanced rations were unknown and there were few, if any, production or feeding standards to follow.

The first practical incubator was not invented until about 1887 — and it was 1911 before the first egg-laying contest was started in Storrs, Conn. — a yardstick with which poultrymen could measure production.

The tolling system was practiced by early millers who took a "toll" of one measure of flour for each bag ground as his pay.

Bags, most of which were woven of linen and home-made, and which themselves represented many hours of toil, became larger and larger until a flat charge of 10 cents per bag had to be made for grinding.

BAGS continued to grow in size until, to quote one early miller, "they became so large they could hardly be gotten through the mill door."

Eleven years after the founding of the Eshelman business, the railroads finally reached Chicago (1853). The Michigan College of Agriculture was not founded until 1857 and the first of the Land Grant Colleges was not founded until 1862. The United States Department of Agriculture was created with Isaac Newton as the first commissioner in 1862. The Secretary of Agriculture was not admitted to the cabinet until 1889 — forty seven years after the founding of the Eshelman business.

When the founder died in 1863, his 18-year-old son, the second John W. Eshelman (1844-1931), took charge of the business. A city feed store was established in Lancaster, Penn. in 1895, and the Grist Mill was abandoned. By 1907 he had built a large warehouse and grain elevator to replace the city feed store and was manufacturing farm feeds.

The warehouse and elevator were destroyed by fire in 1910, but were replaced with a larger structure, now a part of the modern mixed-feed mill in Lancaster.

Additional plants were added to meet the growing demand for Red Rose Feeds. Now, the fourth generation of the Eshelman family is taking an active part in the operation of the business.

The Red Rose, chosen as the trade-mark for Eshelman Feeds, was the symbol of the English House of Lancaster during the "War of the Roses." Lancaster, Penn., was named for Lancaster, England, and consequently adopted the designation. "The Red Rose City." Being so closely allied with Lancaster County tradition, it was only natural that the Red Rose be used to identify Eshelman feeds.

used for screening the many nutritional ideas initiated within the Eshelman organization, as well as those provided by agricultural research work of government, state and private experiment stations.

At the Experimental Farms feeding tests and trials are conducted on a commercial scale. Research at these facilities is conducted with broilers, laying flocks, turkeys, dairy cattle, beef cattle, swine and other animals.

The Eshelman firm was recently presented a citation of President Kennedy's "E" for Export Award by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodge. John W. Eshelman & Sons is the first American feed company to receive this high honor.

Red Rose products are now being sold to exclusive distributors in most of the Central and South American countries as well as the Caribbean. Foreign shipments are made from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. Red Rose Feeds are being manufactured presently in Venezuela and Colombia. Licensing arrangements for the manufacture of Red Rose Feeds are being negotiated in Peru, Brazil and Guatemala.

With the advent of the European common market, negotiations are also being carried out for the manufacture of Red Rose products in Belgium. Once this center of distribution is completed, plans are to supply all the Western European countries and the Middle East in a more efficient manner. The Far East will be served from Malaya, Hong Kong and Japan.

Africa and the emerging new nations of that continent are being given special attention. Australia, New Zealand and all the South Pacific areas will be covered soon.

John W. Eshelman & Sons has the privilege of representing the American Feed Industry by participating in the International Trade Fair being held in Bulgaria, behind the Iron Curtain, to show the communist people the high degree of perfection achieved in this country in the nutrition science and the better care of animals.

DURING more than a century of existence, the firm has passed through every phase of the milling and feed business. The Eshelman business has been built by translating theory into fact and giving the feeder an honest, quality product, one which will yield him a fair return for every dollar invested.

The Circleville plant, during each of the first ten months of 1962, has exceeded the tonnage records of the same months of 1961.

The Eshelman story is summed up by Mr. Carpenter: "We're proud of our long service to American Agriculture and thankful we have been privileged to contribute to the prosperity and well-being of those who have been our friends and customers."

Bar Owner Is Tired Of Working for Thugs

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Duke W. Pallet says he wants to sell his Klondike Inn because "I'm tired of working just for burglars and the hired help."

Pallet told police burglars broke into his establishment Sunday night and took $1,213 in liquor and cash. He said it was the 19th burglary at his place in 18 years for a total loss of more than $42,000.

Salute to Industry

Eshelman Mill Serves Dealers Throughout Seven-State Area

John W. Eshelman & Sons Plant from the Air

EDITOR'S NOTE — As a salute to industry, the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce and The Circleville Herald have undertaken to compile and publish a series of background stories on industry and the valuable part it plays in the community. The city is proud of its industries and the vital role they assume in promoting progress. Here, today's article outlines production activity at the John W. Eshelman & Sons feed mill.

Dealers throughout a seven state area are supplied Red Rose Feeds for all livestock and poultry by the Circleville plant of John W. Eshelman & Sons, E. Mill St.

This modern plant with capacity in excess of 25 railroad cars of manufactured feed daily, plus truck and trailer shipments, has a payroll of 165 persons.

John W. Eshelman & Sons established their feed mill in Circleville in 1929. The operation was formerly owned by the Heffner Milling Co.

Upon purchasing the mill, the Eshelman firm converted it into an efficient feed manufacturing plant. Bulk handling facilities and conveyor belts to move sacked materials were utilized.

IN THE YEARS that have passed, modernizations have been made continually in the plant and its production facilities. The most recent improvement was the installation of finished feed bins for bulk loading of trucks, together with bulk storage and special equipment for handling and storing 350 tons of minerals.

The Circleville management also operates Eshelman Feed, Inc., a large grain elevator at Washington, C. H. which was acquired from the Lloyd Milling Co. in 1939.

In 1948 the company constructed what is now the Red Rose Farm Service on E. Main St. This unit is equipped with grinding and mixing equipment, grain bank storage and bulk handling facilities to better serve Pickaway County farmers.

Striking evidence of the stability of the Circleville community as a manufacturing center — and the satisfaction the Eshelman firm has enjoyed in this business community — is the record of the employees' years of association with Eshelman. Only eight men of the 125 mill employees have less than five years of service.

Those who have been at the Circleville plant since it was started, 32 years ago, are Leslie C. Rihl, plant superintendent; William A. Thomas, plant engineer; and D. J. Carpenter, general manager. Elmer Howard, buyer and traffic manager, joined the firm just one year later.

Nearly one half of all employees have been with the firm more than 15 years. They are: Samuel R. Cline, 30; Mack C. Moore and Gardner Dewey, 29; George Smalley, 27; James Binkley and Merle Greeno, 26; John Jenkins and Roger Lozier, 25; Leslie R. Garrett, 24; Dudley McDill, Harry Bockert and Kenneth Young, 23; George Fowler, L. W. Hoffman and M. F. Kibler, 22; Earl Willis, Delos Humphries, Lloyd Rife, Earl Steele and John McAbee, 21; Herbert Justice, Mart Chaffin, Albert Spangler, Donald Allen, James Justice, Roloff Wolford, Arthur Steele, 20; Carl Wiggins, James Crabtree, Voyden Smith and R. H. Robinson, 19; Albert Smith, Dorothy Puckett and Paul Valentine, 18; Edwin Howsman, Carl Gulick, Bert Ratcliff, Paul Dawson, Burton Haynes, Richard Dawson, Clyde Steele and Herbert Thomas, 17; William Hoskins, George Forquer, Zed Smith, Guy Allison, Henry Legg, Wilson Reed, Mack Shaw, Leon Minshall and Bess Simson, 16; and Eugene Gildersleeve, Charles Lawson, Lloyd Dille, Jack Lane, Herman Davis, Ralph Henry, Tom Houghton and Forest Van Fossen, 15 years.

THE FIRST general manager of the mill was Robert D. Musser who was a great grandson of the founder of the Eshelman firm. After the death of Mr. Musser in 1946 H. R. Eshelman Jr., also a great grandson of the founder, became general manager. He served in this capacity until 1956 when he transferred to the Lancaster, Penn., offices as a vice-president of the company. Mr. Carpenter succeeded Mr. Eshelman as general manager.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Another cold front moved across Ohio Tuesday afternoon and evening. The showers which accompanied this front generally were light with amounts less than one-tenth of an inch except in the southern counties, where Chesapeake had .45 of an inch.

Skies cleared over most of the state early Tuesday night, and by early today temperatures dropped into the 20s in many of the central and southern counties.

At daybreak today Columbus was the coldest with 25, Cincinnati had 26 and Zanesville 28. Higher temperatures were reported in the north, with Cleveland 38 and Youngstown 36 under partly cloudy to cloudy skies.

Heavy fog formed in many places in the central and southern sections.

Partly cloudy skies and cool temperatures are forecast for today with some snow flurries in the northern and eastern counties.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS
NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average three to six degrees below normal. Normal high 55, normal low 35-40. No important temperature changes until wamer about Sunday. Precipitation will average about one-half inch melted as a few snow flurries Thursday, scattered rain showers possibly mixed with snow Friday and rain Sunday or Monday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average 8 to 12 degrees below normal. Normal high 56-63, normal low 36-40. Colder Friday, continued rather cold through Monday. Precipitation will average two-tenths of an inch or less. Chance of light showers or snow flurries about Thursday night, Friday and Sunday.

Americanism To Be Taught GIs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Instruction in Americanism and in the threats of communism will be made a compulsory part of military training for all U.S. servicemen, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced today.

The action was recommended by an advisory committee of civilians and recently retired military leaders under the chairmanship of Karl Bendetsen, a former Pentagon official.

The panel was formed last January as an outgrowth of Senate subcommittee hearings on military information and on charges that American military commanders had been misled. The subcommittee report did not support the muzzling charges.

Drummer's Sports Car Leads to Arrest

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 26-year-old Milford drummer faced arraignment on five bank robbery charges today as the result of his taste for red sports cars.

FBI agents arrested Thomas J. Miller, father of three children, Tuesday and charged him with robbing the First National Bank at Elmwood Place of $6,500 last Friday. They said his six robberies netted him more than $14,000.

Ed Mason, special agent in charge of the Cincinnati FBI office, said Miller's arrest cleared up a wave of robberies in the greater Cincinnati area. He said agents recovered a pistol and $5,100 in cash and checks at Miller's house.

Mason said a radio salesman, Edward R. Bruegemeyer, parked his car in front of the Elmwood Place Bank at the time of the robbery. He later told police that as he was taking his briefcase from the car, he saw a man jump into a red sports car and take off.

Bruegemeyer could not remember the make of the car right away, but it came back to him later. It was a Triumph.

FBI agents then compiled a list of persons in this area who recently bought such cars and visited every one of them personally. Tuesday their search ended with Miller's arrest.

The FBI said Miller also robbed $1,830 from the Fifth Third Union Trust Co. branch at Norwood Sept. 26 and took $5,100 at gunpoint from the Central Trust Co. branch at Mariemont July 31. Hold-ups at the Economy Savings and Loan Co., Loveland, July 20; at the Evanson Building and Loan Co., Silverton, and the Economy Savings and Loan Co. branch at the Tri-County Shopping Center Jan. 11 netted him $200, $444 and $285 respectively, agents said.

Chief Charles Fritz of Norwood police said Miller admitted the robberies. He was held in lieu of $15,000 bond.

British Told West Avoided Super-Munich

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan says that Soviet Premier Khrushchev's challenge in Cuba could have crumpled the West's defense if the United States and her allies had taken a backward step.

He told the House of Commons that any wavering in Washington or the other Western capitals "would have been a kind of super-Munich. It might easily have led to the collapse of the defense of the free world."

"The world has had a shock. We have been very near the edge," he said.

The prime minister said a gain for mankind still could come from the tense developments of last week.

He pointed out that Khrushchev has agreed to international verification to determine that Soviet missile bases in Cuba are dismantled.

Having accepted this principle in one sphere, the Soviets may be able to accept it in other areas, such as disarmament, the British leader said.

Macmillan's government also promised full support for India's attempts to throw back the Communist Chinese invasion.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Cuban crisis took the edge off this year's election campaigns but provided enough material for political bickering to last after Election Day.

The Republicans, who had been urging President Kennedy to "do something" before he cracked down on the Russian missile bases in Cuba, are now asking: Why didn't he do something sooner?

This was the main point made Tuesday night by Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa. But Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said the Republicans, now "shorn of the Cuban issue, seem to be saying: Yes, but you should have taken us into a nuclear war."

This, however, doesn't answer Scott's argument that Republicans had information the Russians were building Cuban missile bases long before Kennedy said he knew about it although, Scott said, the same information was available to the Kennedy administration.

Here is a timetable:

Aug. 24—The State Department said Communist ships were arriving in Cuba with technicians and military weapons which appeared to be only of the defensive kind.

Sept. 2—Russia announced it was sending Cuba economic help and armaments with technical specialists to train Cuban servicemen.

Sept. 4—Kennedy said he had no evidence the weapons were offensive but added: "Were it otherwise (Castro) will be prevented by whatever means necessary from taking action against any part of the Western Hemisphere."

Sept. 7—Under steady Republican pressure to "do something," Kennedy asked Congress, and subsequently got, approval for taking any steps he thought were necessary in handling the Cuban situation. This included the use of force.

Sept. 8—Sen. Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., said he thought it might be necessary to start a blockade to stop and search Cuba-bound ships for war materials. This was the step Kennedy took a month and a half later.

Sept. 11—The Russian government warned the United States that, if it attacked Cuba, this would be the "beginning of the unleashing of war."

Sept. 13 — At his news conference Kennedy said the arms shipments to Cuba did not constitute a serious threat to any other part of this hemisphere but that this "country will do whatever must be done to protect its own security and that of its allies."

Also on this date, according to Scott, Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the Senate Armed Services Committee a Soviet arms buildup was going on in Cuba. Scott said "I think the only conclusion can be that the President himself may not have received this information."

Sept. 14—One day after Kennedy said the Soviet weapons in Cuba were defensive—according to a Chicago Daily News Service story of Oct. 25—congressional leaders were called to the White House and given their first briefing on reports that the Russians were installing long-range ballistic missiles in Cuba. But, the News said, the evidence was regarded as inconclusive.

Scott said Tuesday night the Republicans in mid-September had "very hard information" that the Russians were building Cuban missile bases. He said the same information was available to the Kennedy administration.

(He also said: "Those missile bases were there a long, long time before the President spoke" (in his nationwide broadcast of Oct. 22).

Oct. 10—Keating said the Russians were building six intermediate range missile sites. He denied administration statements the buildup was defensive.

Oct. 13—Campaigning in Indianapolis, Kennedy jabbed at "those self-appointed generals and admirals who want to send someone else's son to war." He said "This is no time for rash and irresponsible talk—no time for confused and intemperate remarks on the part of those who have neither the facts nor the responsibility to determine this nation's course." Although he did not name him, Kennedy's jab appeared intended for Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., who for several months had been calling for an invasion of Cuba.

Oct. 16—On this date (Kennedy said in his broadcast of Oct. 22) the President "received the first preliminary hard information" that missile sites were being built in Cuba. He said he ordered stepped-up surveillance.

This was a month after, Scott said, the Republicans had "very hard information" about the missile sites.

Oct. 18—As a result of the increased surveillance, the President indicated, he had even more information about the missiles before he talked that evening to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Kennedy told the nation (in the Oct. 22 broadcast) that in this meeting with Gromyko the Russian said the weapons to Cuba were defensive. Kennedy said this was a false statement by Gromyko. But he has not yet personally explained why, in his conversation with Gromyko, he didn't call the Russian's hand on the falsehood.

Oct. 22—Kennedy in his broadcast announced that the Russians were building Cuban missile sites and ordered a quarantine on offensive arms shipments to Cuba.

Castro Could Upset Accord

U.S. Aide Fears Cuban May Bring Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuba's Fidel Castro could upset the agreement reached between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev last Sunday, an assistant secretary of state fears.

Referring to Castro's five demands including U.S. withdrawal from the Guantanamo Naval Base, Edwin M. Martin, assistant secretary for inter-American affairs, said "We do not know how firmly he may insist on them."

Martin pointed out that Castro has "preponderant military power in Cuba, he has certain opportunities to make it very difficult to carry out the agreement if he should choose to do so."

Martin, interviewed on "Press Conference U.S.A.," a radio program of the Voice of America, said however that if Castro attempts to upset the settlement he may risk loss of Soviet economic support.

But, he added, there is no reason to believe that Khrushchev "would find it easy to have a Communist state collapse economically and become a sign of the economic difficulties of communism, or that he would like to give up Cuba as a place from which to operate subversively in the rest of Latin America."

Discussing Kennedy's commitment not to invade Cuba if the Soviets keep their promise and dismantle their missile bases on the island, Martin said this was a "very specific and definite guarantee" and not a guarantee of the status quo.

The question of invasion arose because of the presence of Soviet-installed missiles, Martin said, and "if those missiles are removed then the necessity for an invasion is removed. I think that beyond that one cannot go—as the President did not go."

MONROE TWP.

The Freshman and Sophomore party was held Friday.

The Sophomore class welcomed a new student this week. His name is Arthur Graves.

Students took the Content Battery and IQ Test last week.

In biology sophomores are studying flowers and their reproduction. In English they are studying how to improve listening and are studying how to write promissory notes in general business class.

Seniors are looking forward to a big turnout for the dinner to be held November 11, in the Monroe Two auditorium. Serving time is from 11:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. The menu is as follows: roast chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, succatash, perfection salad, hot rolls, butter, cranberry sauce, pie, coffee or milk.

5 Cuyahoga Colleges Get Special Grants

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Foundation has announced grants totaling $500,000 to aid major colleges and universities in Cuyahoga County.

Each college will get $100,000 over a 4-year period, Elwood H. Fisher, chairman of the foundation's distribution committee, said.

Here is how the colleges plan to use the grants:

Baldwin-Wallace—Toward a college union which will permit the institution to add 600 commuting students, according to President Alfred B. Bonds Jr.

Case Institute of Technology — To expand library collections in the fields of science, technology and systems engineering.

John Carroll—The Rev. Hugh E. Dunn, S.J., president, said the funds would be applied to the next major building project, a science center.

Western Reserve — The first $25,000 will be used for equipment in the new science center and the rest probably will be applied to a new wing for the Freiburger Library, said Mr. John S. Millis, president.

Fenn College — Toward a $1.8 million lecture hall, auditorium and administration building, according to President G. Brooks Earnest.

Delphos Native Ruled To Have Killed Himself

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Officials have termed as suicide the death of Gary B. Korn, 23.

Korn was found dead in his apartment at 51 Clifton Ave. Sunday night. Police said two apartment house guards discovered the body with a rifle, a spent shell and a note lying nearby.

Officers said Korn was last seen Wednesday.

Korn's family lives in Delphos, Ohio.

Flow of News Said Weapon in Cuban Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon's information chief says news of government actions in the Cuban crisis was a weapon in the drive for the Soviet to dismantle its missile bases on the island.

"News flowing from actions taken by the government is part of the weaponry," said Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs.

He told a reporter the timing of announcements, the rank of the government official making the announcement and other factors figured in the strategy which he summed up as "speaking in one voice to your adversary."

Putting it another way, Sylvester said: "In the kind of world we live in, the generation of news by actions taken by the government becomes one weapon in a strained situation. The results, in my opinion, justify the methods we used."

Some of the announcements — like the callup of 14,000 Air Force Reserves in troop carrying units — were intended clearly to warn the Soviets that this country meant business.

So were the repeated and pointed references by State Department and Pentagon officials to President Kennedy's declaration that "further action will be justified" if offensive military preparations continued in Cuba.

Obviously a variation of the same over-all strategy was adopted for the new phase which the Cuban affair entered with the agreement in principle for removal of Soviet rocket bases from the island.

As late as Monday night solid information was impossible to obtain on such points as whether the promised dismantling was actually under way.

Two probable aims for that policy appeared to be:

To keep the other side guessing, during negotiations on the details, as to just how much the United States knows, and,

To head off public evaluations of such information which, in the view of officials, might heat up the situation anew.

The government's actions in the news field during the past week of crisis were extraordinary for a short-of-war situation.

The chief sources of news on the Cuban developments were the White House, the Defense Department and the State Department.

At the Defense Department, Sylvester kept a tight rein on the individual armed services, particularly the Navy which was playing the chief identifiable role by enforcing the arms blockade of Cuba.

All military news of the blockade was channeled through Sylvester, who appeared at briefings held generally twice a day and made special announcements, usually where television cameras could chronicle the event.

News media clamored to send reporters and photographers to the blockading fleet and to the Guantanamo naval base, which has been sealed off from public view since a few days before the crisis came to a boil.

The Pentagon, in consultation with representatives of the wire services, newspapers, magazines, television and radio, had tentatively worked out plans for pool coverage of the blockading fleet and events at Guantanamo.

The plans were called off—postponed was the term Sylvester used—late Saturday night at a time when rapid-fire developments seemed to be leading to some imminent military action by the United States.

They have not been reinstituted since the crisis eased. Sylvester said Monday the pool coverage plan "is still postponed indefinitely."

That postponement may turn out to be a final cancellation without reporters ever reaching the fleet or base.

Early in the crisis the White House asked newspapers and television and radio stations to be cautious and discreet in publicizing information on the armed services during the Cuban crisis.

Guidelines were outlined for handling matters the administration regarded as vital to national security.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Monday that cancellation of the guidelines was under consideration and such action will be taken as soon as the need is ended.

Sylvester had told newsmen the White House was notifying news media "that we are no longer asking them to follow the guidelines."

Asked about that, Salinger said it was premature.

As for Pentagon release of information, as distinguished from what the media use if they get it, Sylvester emphasized that "our own guidelines here in the Defense Department will, of course, continue just as firmly as they have in the past."

MONROE TWP.

The Freshman and Sophomore party was held Friday.

The Sophomore class welcomed a new student this six weeks. His name is Arthur Graves.

Students took the Content Battery and I.Q. Test last week.

In biology sophomores are studying flowers and their reproduction. In English they are studying how to improve listening and are studying how to write promissory notes in general business class.

Seniors are looking forward to a big turnout for the dinner to be held November 11, in the Monroe Two auditorium. Serving time is from 11:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. The menu is as follows: roast chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, succatash, perfection salad, hot rolls, butter, cranberry sauce, pie, coffee or milk.

5 Cuyahoga Colleges Get Special Grants

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Foundation has announced grants totaling $500,000 to aid major colleges and universities in Cuyahoga County.

Each college will get $100,000 over a 4-year period, Elwood H. Fisher, chairman of the foundation's distribution committee, said.

Here is how the colleges plan to use the grants:

Baldwin-Wallace—Toward a college union which will permit the institution to add 600 commuting students, according to President Alfred B. Bonds Jr.

Case Institute of Technology — To expand library collections in the fields of science, technology and systems engineering.

John Carroll—The Rev. Hugh E. Dunn, S.J., president, said the funds would be applied to the next major building project, a science center.

Western Reserve — The first $25,000 will be used for equipment in the new science center and the rest probably will be applied to a new wing for the Freiberger Library, said Mr. John S. Millis, president.

Fenn College — Toward a $1.8 million lecture hall, auditorium and administration building, according to President G. Brooks Earnest.

Delphos Native Ruled To Have Killed Himself

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Officials have termed as suicide the death of Gary B. Korn, 23.

Korn was found dead in his apartment at 51 Clifton Ave. Sunday night. Police said two apartment house guards discovered the body with a rifle, a spent shell and a note lying nearby.

Officers said Korn was last seen Wednesday.

Korn's family lives in Delphos, Ohio.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon's information chief says news of government actions in the Cuban crisis was a weapon in the drive for force the Soviet to dismantle its missile bases on the island.

"News flowing from actions taken by the government is part of the weaponry," said Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs.

He told a reporter the timing of announcements, the rank of the government official making the announcement and other factors figured in the strategy which he summed up as "speaking in one voice to your adversary."

Putting it another way, Sylvester said: "In the kind of world we live in, the generation of news by actions taken by the government becomes one weapon in a strained situation. The results, in my opinion, justify the methods we used."

Some of the announcements — like the callup of 14,000 Air Force Reservists in troop carrying units — were intended clearly to warn the Soviets that this country meant business.

So were the repeated and pointed references by State Department and Pentagon officials to President Kennedy's declaration that "further action will be justified" if offensive military preparations continued in Cuba.

Obviously a variation of the same over-all strategy was adopted for the new phase which the Cuban affair entered with the agreement in principle for removal of Soviet rocket bases from the island.

As late as Monday night solid information was impossible to obtain on such points as whether the promised dismantling was actually under way.

Two probable aims for that policy appeared to be:

To keep the other side guessing, during negotiations on the details, as to just how much the United States knows, and,

To head off public evaluations of such information which, in the view of officials, might heat up the situation anew.

The government's actions in the news field during the past week of crisis were extraordinary for a short-of-war situation.

The chief sources of news on the Cuban developments were the White House, the Defense Department and the State Department.

At the Defense Department, Sylvester kept a tight rein on the individual armed services, particularly the Navy which was playing the chief identifiable role by enforcing the arms blockade of Cuba.

All military news of the blockade was channeled through Sylvester, who appeared at briefings held generally twice a day and made special announcements, usually where television cameras could chronicle the event.

News media clamored to send reporters and photographers to the blocking fleet and to the Guantanamo naval base, which has been sealed off from public view since a few days before the crisis came to a boil.

The Pentagon, in consultation with representatives of the wire services, newspapers, magazines, television and radio, had tentatively worked out plans for pool coverage of the blocking fleet and events at Guantanamo.

The plans were called off—postponed was the term Sylvester used—late Saturday night at a time when rapid-fire developments seemed to be leading to some imminent military action by the United States.

They have not been reinstituted since the crisis eased. Sylvester said Monday the pool coverage plan "is still postponed indefinitely."

That postponement may turn out to be a final cancellation without reporters ever reaching the fleet or base.

Early in the crisis the White House asked newspapers and television and radio stations to be cautious and discreet in publicizing information on the armed services during the Cuban crisis.

Guidelines were outlined for handling matters the administration regarded as vital to national security.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Monday that cancellation of the guidelines was under consideration and such action will be taken as soon as the need is ended.

Sylvester had told newsmen the White House was notifying news media "that we are no longer asking them to follow the guidelines."

Asked about that, Salinger said it was premature.

As for Pentagon release of information, as distinguished from what the media use if they get it, Sylvester emphasized that "our own guidelines here in the Defense Department will, of course, continue just as firmly as they have in the past."

Vitamin A For The Skin

Q. I have been using a face cream containing vitamin A for about a year. So far as I can tell my skin doesn't look any younger. Should I try another brand of vitamin cream?

A. In recent years a number of biologically active substances such as vitamins and hormones have been incorporated in cosmetic preparations. The advertising claims always subtly (or not so subtly) hint at some marvelous benefits. Vitamin A in cosmetics supposedly enhances the appearance of the skin. Actually, there is no acceptable scientific evidence to support the claim that cosmetics containing vitamin A are of greater value than those that lack it.

Atwater 3rd Graders Complete Interesting Indian Project

The third grade class of Mrs. Kathryn Bower at Atwater School has completed a geography project on the American Indian. During the study the pupils made models of the different types of homes used by the Indians. Among these were tepees, pueblos, hogans, grass huts and lean-tos. The third graders fashioned the pueblos and hogans from sticks and mud. They used authentic looking material whenever possible.

Another portion of the display was Indian dolls, and totem poles, furnished by some of the youngsters.

THE GROUP made Indian costumes from heavy feed sacks. Designs were crayoned on the sacks and they were trimmed with beads, buttons, yarn and fringes.

City-County PTA News, Features

WILLIAMSPORT
The Williamsport Parent-Teacher Society met Tuesday night in the Williamsport School Auditorium.

The second grade won the attendance banner again this month. Music for the evening was presented by the High School Girls Chorus. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Nancy Keller.

The society discussed buying a duplicator for the school office. The president, Mrs. Ray Strawser, appointed Mrs. Eugene Bush and Mrs. William Easterday to investigate this matter. The society voted to pay the patrol boys 25¢ for three trips of patrol duty.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Cecil Roebuck of Washington C. H. His talk was about his visit to Russia last year. He visited the schools with other school officials from America. His talk was illustrated with colored slides. In his talk, he stated that he arrived there last Thanksgiving Day. Russian police met his group at the plane and escorted them to the customs office. Their passports and plane tickets were taken and kept until they were ready to leave.

He told how children six months old are put into nurseries, so the mothers can go back to work. At 3½ years they are sent to kindergarten and are taught the principles of Communism. Foreign languages are taught in the lower grades. There is a special boarding school for slow learners and boys and girls are trained to do the same kind of work. They are told what they are suited for and can make no decisions of their own. In all of the schools are signs bearing the inscription "There Is No God."

There is a large protestant church, which is attended by about 2000 people in services held only at night. Mr. Roebuck asked the minister if he could help him in any way, after he returned home. His answer "You pray for us, while we pray for you." "Let's both pray for peace."

Dr. E. L. Montgomery of Circleville spoke in behalf of the levy for Berger Hospital that will appear on the ballot on Tuesday.

Little Miss Williamsport, Sheree Christopher, and Miss Williamsport, Miss Sandy Hosler, were presented to the society.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Warren Straley and Mrs. Jack Hanson and their committee.

10,000 Negroes Hired under JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said today 10,000 more Negroes are holding important jobs in the federal government than when President Kennedy took office in January 1961.

"This has not been because this administration wanted to appoint anyone on any other basis than the highest ideals of this government—equal opportunity," Johnson added.

Johnson spoke as he swore in Lewis S. Flagg III, Negro attorney from Brooklyn, N.Y., as an associate solicitor in the Interior Department. In the $16,000-a-year post, Flagg succeeds Gordon Bennett, who resigned to become a candidate for Supreme Court judge in Montana.

Ohio Lawmen Said OKing Amendment

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — William Howlett, chairman of the board of the Lawson Milk Co., claimed today that 70.6 per cent of Ohio's law enforcement officers favor the amendment sponsored by his company to the Sunday closing law.

The proposed amendment to the state constitution will be voted on at the Nov. 6 election.

Howlett said Community Research Associates of Akron made an independent survey of the 275 members of the Buckeye State Sheriff's Association and the Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police. Sheriffs and police chiefs returned unsigned cards on which the ballot was printed, indicating how they would vote.

Chiang Notes 75th Birthday, Still Confident of Victory

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek is celebrating his 75th birthday today in good health and still voicing confidence his Chinese Nationalists will recover mainland China in his lifetime.

This birthday is his 15th in Formosa since he quit the mainland Dec. 10, 1949.

Chiang seems as alert as ever, his eyes still as penetrating, his power of concentration unweakened.

He is strict on state business, but a genial, readily smiling host on social occasions.

He unbends with only a few people: his elder son, Gen. Chiang Ching-kuo; his secretary-general, onetime Premier Chang Chun, who has been associated with the generalissimo since they were military cadets in Japan, and Cheng, a fellow native of the

September Road Death Toll Shows Decline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's total of 150 traffic deaths in September was a 12 per cent reduction from the 171 in September 1961, the Highway Safety Department reported Tuesday.

The biggest decrease was in pedestrian deaths, 25 as compared with 35 in the same month last year. The death toll in cities was down 21 per cent for the second straight month.

mainland province of Chekiang, who has served under him since 1924.

Since his last birthday Chiang has varied some of the patterns of his daily life.

He works mostly at his suburban home instead of at presidential headquarters in downtown Taipei.

He attends fewer routine military, political and economic conferences. He skips most meetings of the powerful standing committee of the Kuomintang, his ruling party.

The change in his pattern of work does not mean Chiang is idling his time away, for his routine would tax many a younger man. He is delegating more work to Chen Cheng, his political heir-apparent, and other ministers, while concentrating on matters of top importance.

Chiang also wants to conserve his health. He regards this as a duty necessary for realizing his government's supreme goal — recovery of the mainland. Aides say Chiang has had no recurrence of the bladder trouble for which he underwent an operation at the end in April.

Chiang regards the Chinese Communists as betrayers of the 1911 revolution which ended more than 46 centuries of monarchical rule in China. His long-standing policy toward them is: a fight to the finish, no negotiations and no compromise.

Democrat Club's Signs Outlawed

FARMINGTON, Mich. (AP) — The Democratic Club here stands within 100 feet of City Hall, a polling place, and so there's a problem.

Prosecutor George Taylor says the club will have to take down election campaign signs on its front windows election day or be violating the law.

The Michigan law forbids solicitation of votes within 100 feet of a polling place while the polls are open. The front of the building housing the Democratic Club is 92 feet from City Hall, Taylor said signs are a means of solicitation.

Taylor is a Republican, but he said that had nothing to do with the matter. "The law has got to be observed," he said.

N&W Argues For Lease OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Norfolk & Western Railway official testified Tuesday that leasing of the Pittsburgh & Western Railway by the N&W would help attract new industry to the areas the railroads serve.

John P. Fishwick, Roanoke, Va., an N&W vice president, testified in support of a proposal by the N&W to lease the Pittsburgh & West Virginia and operate it as part of a 7,600-mile rail system.

Fishwick, lead-off witness at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the application, said "we are confident that the hard-hitting industrialization program which we plan will be able to bring new industry, new jobs, and added prosperity to the area served by Pittsburgh & West Virginia and the other lines in our system."

In addition, he said, the proposed leasing would add about $1.5 million a year in efficiencies and economies, before federal income taxes.

The N&W proposes to pay $915,000 a year rental under a 99-year lease renewable in perpetuity.

The proposal is contingent upon ICC approval of the N&W-Nickel Plate-Wabash unification plan now pending before the commission.

The N&W also is seeking authorization to include the Akron, Canton & Youngstown Railroad in the new system through stock control.

The Pittsburgh & West Virginia extends from Pittsburgh junction, Ohio, to Connellsville, Pa. It is part of the alphabet route of rail lines linking the mid-Atlantic, upper midwest, and Great Lakes areas. It connects with the Nickel Plate on the west and with the Western Maryland Railway on the east.

Northwestern Tackle Hailed

Lineman of Week Honor Is Detailed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Joe Szczeko, Northwestern's 225-pound sophomore tackle, was named the college football lineman of the week by The Associated Press today.

It was Big Joe's sparkling play up front that played a major role in Northwestern's 35-6 victory over Notre Dame last week, a triumph that lifted the Wildcats into the No. 1 national ranking in this week's AP poll.

Szczeko's jarring tackle of Ed Rutkowski on the first running play of the game made the Notre Dame back fumble. Larry Benz recovered for Northwestern on the Irish 29—and eight plays later the Wildcats had their first touchdown.

Under Northwestern's lineman rating system, Big Joe was tops. He was given 79 per cent on his offensive assignments on running plays and 84 per cent on his blocking for passes.

High up in the voting by sports writers and broadcasters were Frank Patitucci, Stanford end; Ron Snidow, Oregon tackle and Billy Joe Armstrong, Ohio State center.

Patitucci, a 213-pound junior, started Stanford on the way to its upset 17-7 victory over UCLA by grabbing a fumble and running 82 yards for a touchdown. His smashing in tactics made him a standout on defense.

Snidow, a 235-pounder, made 11 tackles, eight of them unassisted as Oregon tied Washington 21-21. In addition, his punting helped keep the Huskies backed up in their own territory. Two of his kicks went out of bounds inside the 5.

As for Armstrong, Woody Hayes, Ohio State coach, showed superlatives on his 189-pound, 5-foot-11 senior snapperbacker after the Buckeyes' 14-7 victory over Wisconsin.

"Billy Joe is the best all-around player on our squad," Hayes said. "He's the best I've had here in 12 years. He has been tops for four years in grades, attitude, behavior and playing ability."

Wildcats Top Football Data

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Northwestern, the nation's No. 1 college football team in this week's Associated Press poll, has some impressive statistical credentials in justifying the ranking.

NCAA Service Bureau figures revealed today that the Wildcats, one of the eight remaining undefeated major schools, have the best passing team as well as the highest scoring outfit.

Sparked by sophomore passer Tom Myers, Northwestern has averaged 219.4 yards per game in the air for five games, completing 80 passes in 130 attempts for a .615 percentage. The Wildcats have scored 169 points for a 33.8 average.

Oregon is the total offense leader, averaging 413.3 yards on the ground and in the air for six games. Michigan State has been the most effective rushing team, grinding out an average of 338.0 yards running.

Cross Country Run Gets Harrier Lost

ARCATA, Calif. (AP) — Jerry Blueford, a freshman from Oakland, Calif., decided to give up football and joined the cross country squad at Humboldt State College.

He went out for a run Tuesday and got lost. Blueford ended up in Arcata's residential area about 11 blocks from the campus.

The youngster wasn't non-plussed, however. He called a cab. Four bits (fifty cents) worth later he was back on campus, re-oriented, if somewhat heckled.

Trainer William Hal Bishop saddled 111 winners in thoroughbred racing the first seven months of 1962.

'You Lousy Bum!' Cry Irks Boston Coach in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—This is a new National Basketball Association season but an old story was repeated Tuesday night when Boston Celtic Coach Red Auerbach, threatened and taunted by St. Louis Hawk fans, blew a fuse and charged into the crowd.

Satellite Unit To Appear at Walnut School

The famed Harlem Satellites cage team is scheduled at the Walnut Twp. gymnasium 8 p. m. November 10.

The Satellites, composed of many former college and professional stars, will play a team of former cage players of the Teays Valley School District.

Among the noted individuals is Rookie Brown, former Harlem Globetrotter ace. Al Saunders a former All-American from Bradley University also will appear.

The famed magic circle and interesting half-time show makes this an evening of fine entertainment.

TICKETS will be on sale at the Bastian Coffee Shop, Ashville Hardware and Morrison Grocery. The event is sponsored by the Teays Valley Booster Club.

Circle D Lanes To Host Area BPAA Tourney

Circle D Lanes will host the second block of the Southeastern Ohio Bowling Proprietors Assn. All-Star tournament at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Bowlers in the event are from Circleville, Chillicothe, Logan, Lancaster, New Lexington, McConelsville, Coshocton, Portsmouth, Cambridge, Marietta, Zanesville, Newark and Washington C. H. Many of these bowlers average over 200.

The winner of this tournament has all expenses paid and qualifies to roll in the National BPAA tourney considered by many to be the World Series of bowling.

Local bowlers entered are Bill Dietrich, William Fowler and Larry Dietrich.

Bob Rothfuss of Lancaster and Ed Thomas of Logan who are professional bowlers will be entered in the tourney.

Cepeda Told Eyesight OK

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco Giant slugger Orlando Cepeda is all right, and teammate, Willie Mays is still in a hospital.

First baseman Cepeda was told Tuesday after a 1½-hour eye examination that he does not have a vision-impeding cataract over his right eye as he feared last week.

Center fielder Mays, who collapsed in September and spent three days in a hospital, entered Mt. Zion Hospital for several days of tests that doctors say will comprise a complete physical examination.

Giants' ophthalmologist Dr. George Campion examined Cepeda and said his right eye has normal 20-20 vision and his "superb left eye" is 20-15.

Logan Elm, Laurelville Meet in SVC

Piketon, Paint Valley Tilt Is Important In League Outcome

After a week's rest the Logan Elm grid team returns to Scioto Valley conference competition Friday, hosting the Laurelville Wildcats.

The Braves posted a previous 36-0 win over the Hocking County member of the conference. Laurelville has not won a game this year.

Logan Elm mentor Keith Merrin said his Braves are not taking the winless Wildcats lightly. In order to maintain the league lead, which the Braves now hold, they have to win their two remaining games.

The race for the crown is a three way battle in the new SVC. Logan Elm's 3-1 record is presently tops, but Piketon is a close second with a 3-1-1 slate and Paint Valley is still in contention with a 2-1-1 season.

Piketon and Paint Valley meet Friday in a game that will knock one of them out of the race. It is the final loop tilt for the Red-streaks of Pike County.

The Paint Valley Bearcats must come back the next week to play Logan Elm. A win for Piketon assured them of second place and puts them in a good spot to win the league should the Braves drop one of their remaining two games.

Merrin reported sophomore defensive halfback Rickie Shaw will be out the rest of the season with a broken finger.

He will be replaced by either Larry Radabaugh or Jimmy Hicks. If Hicks moves into the line-backer slot the middle guard spot will be filled by Lester Hayslip.

Sophomore quarterback Jeff Lutz has a bad ankle but should be ready to go by Friday, according to Merrin.

The Logan Elm Freshmen play Mt. Logan of Chillicothe tomorrow at 4 p. m. on the Braves' gridiron.

Chamberlain Chalks 10,000th Point

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain dumped in 59 points to surpass the 10,000-point mark as San Francisco's Warriors dropped the New York Knickerbockers 125-106 Tuesday night in a National Basketball Association game.

"That's an awful lot of shots in three years," said the 7-foot-1 former Kansas All-America who ran his NBA total to a fabulous 10,033.

THOUGHT IT WAS A DEER—A game protector in New York state stands beside a 700-pound moose shot and killed by a Merrill, N.Y., hunter who thought the animal was a deer when he shot it. If the hunter hadn't reported the accident to game wardens he would have faced a $500 fine. This is the first moose reported killed in this section in 30 years.

TV Gridders End Season Friday

The Teays Valley football team will end its season Friday with a trip to Jonathan Alder in Madison County.

The Vikings are the first of the local schools to end their grid season.

Knocked out of contention for the league crown with successive losses to West Jefferson and Mt. Sterling, the TV gridders came back strong last week with a 56-6 win over Greenview.

Marion Waites' gridders will be attempting to close the season with another win.

DURING the early season the Vikings displayed a staunch defense. Last week their attack exploded to equal their total point output for all previous games when they downed Greenview, 56-6.

Jonathan Alder has a slim league record, having beaten only Greenview. However Waites reported the Madison Countians have fair size, good team speed and are dangerous.

The quarterback throws well, often utilizing a shotgun offense to take advantage of this aerial ability. The Teays Valley scouting report indicates the quarterback and the left halfback are the best backs.

Waites indicated a few changes in the defensive alignment of his Vikings.

Ralph Swank will start at one end, opposite Bill Pritchard. Bill Fortner and Tom Sampson, two sophomores who did a good job at tackle last week, will be going again. The middle guard will be Jim Neal.

Gary Walters, Ron Will, the defensive captain, John Smith and Kenneth Kuhlwein will see action in the secondary and Dave Reese and Dan Hollenback will be the deep men.

THE OFFENSIVE team will be much the same with Mike Seymour and Bob Smith at ends, John Ridenour and Ron Will at tackle, Ralph Swank and Gary Pennington at guards and Jay Morrison at center.

In the backfield it will be Dave Reese at quarterback, Dan Hollenback at fullback, Jon Rush at one halfback slot and Bill Pritchard and John Smith alternating at the other.

OSU Grid Mark Holder For 66 Years Is Dead

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Homer Curtis Howard, who set an Ohio State University football record that has held up for 66 years, is dead.

Howard, 86, a veteran Columbus insurance agent, died in St. Anthony Hospital Tuesday. He played four years of varsity football during the sport's infancy at Ohio State, and in his senior season, 1896, kicked 19 extra points in 19 tries for a 1,000 percentage—obviously, never bettered.

Northwestern Tackle Hailed

Lineman of Week Honor Is Detailed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Joe Szczeko, Northwestern's 225-pound sophomore tackle, was named the college football lineman of the week by The Associated Press today.

It was Big Joe's sparkling play up front that played a major role in Northwestern's 35-6 victory over Notre Dame last week, a triumph that lifted the Wildcats into the No. 1 national ranking in this week's AP poll.

Szczeko's jarring tackle of Ed Rutkowski on the first running play of the game made the Notre Dame back fumble. Larry Benz recovered for Northwestern on the Irish 29—and eight plays later the Wildcats had their first touchdown.

Under Northwestern's lineman rating system, Big Joe was tops. He was given 79 per cent on his offensive assignments on running plays and 84 per cent on his blocking for passes.

High up in the voting by sports writers and broadcasters were Frank Patitucci, Stanford end; Ron Snidow, Oregon tackle and Billy Joe Armstrong, Ohio State center.

Patitucci, a 213-pound junior, started Stanford on the way to its upset 17-7 victory over UCLA by grabbing a fumble and running 82 yards for a touchdown. His smashing in tactics made him a standout on defense.

Snidow, a 235-pounder, made 11 tackles, eight of them unassisted as Oregon tied Washington 21-21. In addition, his punting helped keep the Huskies backed up in their own territory. Two of his kicks went out of bounds inside the 5.

As for Armstrong, Woody Hayes, Ohio State coach, showed superlatives on his 189-pound, 5-foot-11 senior snapperbacker after the Buckeyes' 14-7 victory over Wisconsin.

"Billy Joe is the best all-around player on our squad," Hayes said. "He's the best I've had here in 12 years. He has been tops for four years in grades, attitude, behavior and playing ability."

Wildcats Top Football Data

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Northwestern, the nation's No. 1 college football team in this week's Associated Press poll, has some impressive statistical credentials in justifying the ranking.

NCAA Service Bureau figures revealed today that the Wildcats, one of the eight remaining undefeated major schools, have the best passing team as well as the highest scoring outfit.

Sparked by sophomore passer Tom Myers, Northwestern has averaged 219.4 yards per game in the air for five games, completing 80 passes in 130 attempts for a .615 percentage. The Wildcats have scored 169 points for a 33.8 average.

Oregon is the total offense leader, averaging 413.3 yards on the ground and in the air for six games. Michigan State has been the most effective rushing team, grinding out an average of 338.0 yards running.

Cross Country Run Gets Harrier Lost

ARCATA, Calif. (AP) — Jerry Blueford, a freshman from Oakland, Calif., decided to give up football and joined the cross country squad at Humboldt State College.

He went out for a run Tuesday and got lost.

Blueford ended up in Arcata's residential area about 11 blocks from the campus.

The youngster wasn't nonplussed, however. He called a cab.

Four bits (fifty cents) worth later he was back on campus, re-oriented, if somewhat heckled.

Trainer William Hal Bishop saddled 111 winners in thoroughbred racing the first seven months of 1962.

'You Lousy Bum!' Cry Irks Boston Coach in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—This is a new National Basketball Association season but an old story was repeated Tuesday night when Boston Celtic Coach Red Auerbach, threatened and taunted by St. Louis Hawk fans, blew a fuse and charged into the crowd.

Satellite Unit To Appear at Walnut School

The famed Harlem Satellites cage team is scheduled at the Walnut Twp. gymnasium 8 p. m. November 10.

The Satellites, composed of many former college and professional stars, will play a team of former cage players of the Teays Valley School District.

Among the noted individuals is Rookie Brown, former Harlem Globetrotter ace. Al Saunders a former All-American from Bradley University also will appear.

The famed magic circle and interesting half-time show makes this an evening of fine entertainment.

TICKETS will be on sale at the Bastian Coffee Shop, Ashville Hardware and Morrison Grocery. The event is sponsored by the Teays Valley Booster Club.

Circle D Lanes To Host Area BPAA Tourney

Circle D Lanes will host the second block of the Southeastern Ohio Bowling Proprietors Assn. All-Star tournament at 6 p. m. Saturday.

Bowlers in the event are from Circleville, Chillicothe, Logan, Lancaster, New Lexington, McConelsville, Coshocton, Portsmouth, Cambridge, Marietta, Zanesville, Newark and Washington C. H. Many of these bowlers average over 200.

The winner of this tournament has all expenses paid and qualifies to roll in the National BPAA tourney considered by many to be the World Series of bowling.

Local bowlers entered are Bill Dietrich, William Fowler and Larry Dietrich.

Bob Rothfuss of Lancaster and Ed Thomas of Logan who are professional bowlers will be entered in the tourney.

Cepeda Told Eyesight OK

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco Giant slugger Orlando Cepeda is all right, and teammate, Willie Mays is still in a hospital.

First baseman Cepeda was told Tuesday after a 1½-hour eye examination that he does not have a vision-impeding cataract over his right eye as he feared last week.

Center fielder Mays, who collapsed in September and spent three days in a hospital, entered Mt. Zion Hospital for several days of tests that doctors say will comprise a complete physical examination.

Giants' ophthalmologist Dr. George Campion examined Cepeda and said his right eye has normal 20-20 vision and his "superb left eye" is 20-15.

Election To Widen Gains of Negro

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Negroes are widening their quest for elective office in the United States. They stand to make gains in the Nov. 6 balloting.

Connecticut will elect a Negro to statewide office for the first time. Each major party nominated a Negro for state treasurer.

California will have its first Negro congressman in another all-Negro contest.

New York and Massachusetts have Negroes running for statewide office—New York for the first time.

Negroes, many of them incumbents, are running for local or district offices, such as assemblymen in numerous states.

The Deep South state of Georgia is slated to have a Negro in its legislature for the first time in more than a half century.

Leroy Johnson, an Atlanta Negro attorney, defeated three white candidates for the Democratic nomination to the state Senate in a newly delineated district. He will run in the general election against T. M. Alexander, a Negro who was unopposed in the Republican primary.

In Connecticut, Gerald A. Lamb is a native of Elizabeth City, N.C., and Graham is from Montgomery, Ala.

Also in Connecticut, Wilfred Johnson, first Negro ever elected to the state legislature, is seeking his third two-year term as a state representative. He is a native of Dawson, Ga.

In California's 21st congressional district in Los Angeles County, the Negro opponents for the House of Representatives are Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins, Democrat, and Herman Smith, an attorney, Republican. The district is heavily Democratic.

Three Negroes are assured of election to the California Assembly in all-Negro contests. Three will be a new high, compared with two at present, California has had at least one Negro in the assembly most of this century. Hawkins held his post for 28 years.

New York's first Negro candidate for statewide office is Edward R. Dudley, Manhattan borough president, nominated by the Democrats for attorney general.

James L. Flournoy, a Los Angeles Republican Negro, is running for one of four elective seats on the State Board of Equalization but is rated little chance of success.

Dudley, born in South Boston, Va., faces an uphill fight against the incumbent, Republican Louis J. Lefkowitz, who is running on Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's ticket.

In Massachusetts, Edward W. Brooke, a Negro, is the Republican candidate for attorney general. A poll of Bay State publishers, editors and political writers indicated he has a good chance to defeat Francis E. Kelly, his Democratic opponent.

Period of Total Deafness Helps Youth Become Actor

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What makes an actor?

In the case of Michael Anderson Jr., deafness helped.

Mike, 19, seems to be well on his way. He is the lad who played the son of Deborah Kerr and Robert Mitchum in "The Sundowners," one of the best—and most underrated—films in the last five years.

He'll be seen this winter as Hayley Mills' romance in Disney's new epic, "In Search of the Castaways." He is leaving shortly for the Utah plains to enact the young St. James in "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

Mike is slender, animated and in love with Hayley Mills—"but then, who isn't?" Before leaving for the biblical location, he paused to reflect on how a physical setback can help create an actor.

He was totally deaf at 12.

"It came on gradually," he recalled. "People kept talking more and more quietly, and I had to ask them to speak a little louder."

"I finally realized that I was getting deaf when I was away at school. We used to have a lady read stories to us at bedtime. At first I sat on the opposite bed. Then I had to move to the end of the bed where she was sitting so I could hear her—then next to her. Once she spoke directly to me, and I heard nothing."

Mike still wouldn't admit his infirmity. His mother found out about it when she found him listening to television with the sound turned high.

"The boy was found to have a mastoid condition. An operation started him on the road back to normal hearing."

"But I had learned to get long in a silent world," he remarked, "and I think that had a profound effect on me. Children can be terribly cruel, and I withdrew from their taunts into my own private world. My parents never wrote me while I was at school—they led busy lives—and I dramatized how alone I was."

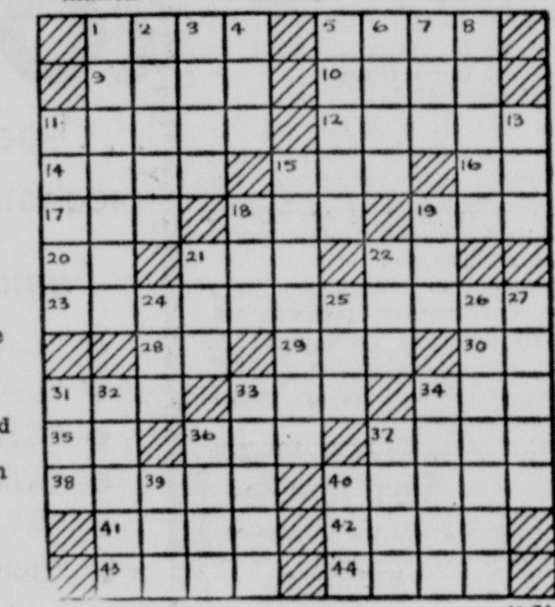

"Deafness also taught me something I find of value in acting. Being unable to hear people speak I had to judge them on their facial characteristics and how they moved."

He is the son of Michael Anderson, the noted British director of "Around the World in 80 Days," "The Wreck of the Mary Deare," etc. Times were lean for the Andersons during Michael's youth, and he helped the family income by taking roles in occasional films. "The Sundowners" was his biggest break, and he's been busy ever since.

Dodger Sophomore Wins NL Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers, a disappointment in his rookie year, had a sparkling second season that earned him 1962 National League Sophomore of the Year honors in the annual Associated Press poll.

The speedy center fielder collected 32 of the 107 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Association participating in the balloting. Outfielder Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs, Rookie of the Year in 1961, was runner-up. He was named on 20 ballots.

Election To Widen Gains of Negro

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Negroes are widening their quest for elective office in the United States. They stand to make gains in the Nov. 6 balloting.

Connecticut will elect a Negro to statewide office for the first time. Each major party nominated a Negro for state treasurer.

California will have its first Negro congressman in another all-Negro contest.

New York and Massachusetts have Negroes running for statewide office—New York for the first time.

Negroes, many of them incumbents, are running for local or district offices, such as assemblymen, in numerous states.

The Deep South state of Georgia is slated to have a Negro in its legislature for the first time in more than a half century.

Leroy Johnson, an Atlanta Negro attorney, defeated three white candidates for the Democratic nomination to the state Senate in a newly delineated district. He will run in the general election against T. M. Alexander, a Negro who was unopposed in the Republican primary.

In Connecticut, Gerald A. Lamb

a dental technician, is running for state treasurer on the Democratic ticket and William D. Graham, a lawyer, on the Republican. They were the first Negroes nominated for statewide office in Connecticut.

Lamb is a native of Elizabeth City, N.C., and Graham is from Montgomery, Ala.

Also in Connecticut, Wilfred Johnson, first Negro ever elected to the state legislature, is seeking his third two-year term as a state representative. He is a native of Dawson, Ga.

In California's 21st congressional district in Los Angeles County, the Negro opponents for the House of Representatives are Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins, Democrat, and Herman Smith, an attorney, Republican. The district is heavily Democratic.

Three Negroes are assured of election to the California Assembly in all-Negro contests. Three will be a new high, compared with two at present, California has had at least one Negro in the assembly most of this century. Hawkins has held his post for 28 years.

New York's first Negro candidate for statewide office is Edward R. Dudley, Manhattan borough president, nominated by the Democrats for attorney general. James L. Flounoy, a Los Angeles Republican Negro, is running for one of four elective seats on the State Board of Equalization but is rated little chance of success.

Dudley, born in South Boston, Va., faces an uphill fight against the incumbent, Republican Louis J. Lefkowitz, who is running on Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's ticket.

In Massachusetts, Edward W. Brooke, a Negro, is the Republican candidate for attorney general. A poll of Bay State publishers, editors and political writers indicated he has a good chance to defeat Francis E. Kelly, his Democratic opponent.

Period of Total Deafness Helps Youth Become Actor

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What makes an actor?

In the case of Michael Anderson Jr., deafness helped.

Mike, 19, seems to be well on his way. He is the lad who played the son of Deborah Kerr and Robert Mitchum in "The Sundowners," one of the best—and most underrated—films in the last five years.

He'll be seen this winter as Hayley Mills' romance in Disney's new epic, "In Search of the Castaways." He is leaving shortly for the Utah plains to enact the young St. James in "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

Mike is slender, animated and in love with Hayley Mills—"but then, who isn't?" Before leaving for the biblical location, he paused to reflect on how a physical setback can help create an actor.

He was totally deaf at 12.

"It came on gradually," he recalled. "People kept talking more and more quietly, and I had to ask them to speak a little louder. I finally realized that I was getting deaf when I was away at school. We used to have a lady read stories to us at bedtime. At first I sat on the opposite bed. Then I had to move to the end of the bed where she was sitting so I could hear her—then next to her. Once she spoke directly to me, and I heard nothing."

Mike still wouldn't admit his infirmity. His mother found out about it when she found him listening to television with the sound turned high.

The boy was found to have a mastoid condition. An operation staid him on the road back to normal hearing.

"But I had learned to get long in a silent world," he remarked, "and I think that had a profound effect on me. Children can be terribly cruel, and I withdrew from their taunts into my own private world. My parents never wrote me while I was at school—they led busy lives—and I dramatized how alone I was."

"Deafness also taught me something I find of value in acting. Being unable to hear people speak I had to judge them on their facial characteristics and how they moved."

He is the son of Michael Anderson, the noted British director of "Around the World in 80 Days," "The Wreck of the Mary Deare," etc. Times were lean for the Andersons during Michael's youth, and he helped the family income by taking roles in occasional films. "The Sundowners" was his biggest break, and he's been busy ever since.

25TH ANNIVERSARY — Kirk Cupp (right) is congratulated by L. D. Varble, manager of the Circleville Purina plant, for his 25 years of service with the company. Observing the presentation of honors is Mrs. Cupp.

Jap Beetles Spread in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Japanese beetles appear to be spreading into areas of Ohio adjacent to those under federal quarantine, the State Agriculture Department said today.

Director Robert H. Terhune said approximately the eastern third of Ohio, plus most of Lucas and Hamilton counties and part of Butler County, presently is quarantined. Federal officials require inspection of plants leaving such areas.

Congress has authorized an expanded control program, Terhune said. Officials added that the State Agriculture Department's Division of Plant Industry probably will recommend that the 1963 legislature make money available to take advantage of federal matching funds in the expanded control program.

The beetles, which attack about 300 kinds of plants, were noted initially in the United States in 1916 and first spotted in Ohio 31 years ago.

Although Ohio has worked with the federal government for years, limited funds have made it pretty much a matter of "putting out small fires as they develop," the chief of the Division of Plant Industry, Harold L. Porter, said.

Surrounding states like Indiana, West Virginia and Michigan also have Japanese beetle problems, Porter said. Michigan plans to drop poisonous Dieldrin pellets from an airplane over two of its southern counties this week, but Terhune said such an approach—while used occasionally in the past—is more of a problem in Ohio because of population density.

Ohio is using ground application of anti-Japanese beetle poisons, and Terhune said there is hope that research will produce even more effective anti-beetle measures.

While the problem is a serious one for many Ohio farmers, the director said he gets a number of letters complaining about Japanese beetles from another group as well—golfers. The beetles sometimes attack the grass on courses, he explained.

SCIOTO

The Scioto Grange No. 2456 will meet 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Scioto School.

Following the business meeting the 4-H Club members will present a program and receive their achievement awards from the leaders of the group.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Bible College Open House Set Friday

The Circleville Bible College E. Ohio St., will feature an Open House Friday evening.

The local college students and faculty are busy preparing for inspection of the grounds and buildings by the general public during the annual affair.

A number of graduates of CBS occupy pastorates in Columbus, Uroana, Springfield, Delaware and other neighboring towns. In addition graduates are stationed in several mission countries throughout the world.

The administration building, library, dining room and dormitories will be open to public inspection from 7-9 p. m. Friday. Refreshments will be served at 9 p. m. and the Missionary Prayer Band will present a pageant in the college chapel from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

EARLIER in the evening, as a part of the celebration, the finalists in the current college ping pong tournament will meet. An exhibition game will be staged with faculty members participating.

Rev. G. H. Blackstone, registrar, extended an invitation to residents of Pickaway to attend the open house and become acquainted with work being done at the local college.

Young Adults Hold Meeting

The Young Adult Class of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church met Sunday in the home of Audrey Sabine.

Donald Watson, president, presided during the business meeting. Ronald Hawkes was in charge of Devotions.

The next class meeting will be held 7:30 p. m. November 29 in the home of Mrs. O. F. Gibbs.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Donald and Bonnie Watson, Ralph and Bethel Burns, Nancy and Shelby Dye, David and

Missing Boy Is Found in Institution

CINCINNATI (AP)—Walter Glen Tindle spent Tuesday night at the Allen House Children's Center while weary police shook their heads about the 9-year-old youngster they had sought for more than a week.

Policemen were making a door-to-door search of houses near Walter's home in the Over-the-Rhine section near Downtown Cincinnati when the word went out on police radio that the boy had been found just across the river in a juvenile detention home.

Walter vanished on Oct. 20 while his mother was shopping. About the same time patrolman Kenneth Bush of Covington, Ky., police found a boy at a service station. The lad said his father had abandoned him after bringing him north on a fishing trip from Wartburg, Tenn. Bush took the boy—who gave his correct name and age—to the Kenton County Juvenile Detention Home.

There he stayed, while police and parents just across the river grew more and more frantic. Finally, after Police Chief Stanley Schrotel had ordered the homicide squad to take over the search, a matron at the home asked Walter about the same-named boy police were looking for.

That was late Tuesday afternoon. Walter started to cry, but wouldn't say he was the boy. Cincinnati authorities were notified.

CBC Registrar Attends Meet

The Rev. G. H. Blackstone, registrar of the Circleville Bible College, attended the 16th annual meeting of the Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges in Chicago last week.

Colleges admitted to full accreditation during the session included the Kentucky Christian College, Grayson, Ky.; Southeastern Bible College, Birmingham, Ala.; and Washington Bible College, Washington D. C.

The Accrediting Association meeting was attended by representatives from 38 accredited colleges, 20 delegates from associate colleges and 48 visitors from 31 non-member colleges.

There are now some 250 Bible institutes and colleges in the United States and Canada according to Rev. Blackstone. The AABC is the official accrediting agency for such colleges.

Mediators Seek To Avert Newspaper Strike in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal mediators, on their own initiative, have moved formally into negotiations in the disputes in the newspaper industry here.

Midnight tonight is the deadline for a threatened strike by news and commercial employees on any or all of seven daily papers.

Frank H. Brown, regional director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said Monday his office had entered the disputes first at the Daily News, the World Telegram & Sun, and the Post.

Each newspaper has its own contract.

Brown said the mediators acted on their own motion because of the receipt of information that negotiations between the newspapers

Upper Ohio River Basin Patrol Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service's Division of Water Supply is preparing a six-year program for water pollution control in the upper Ohio River Basin.

Headquarters for initial studies will be Wheeling, W. Va., according to announcement of the program Tuesday by Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze.

The Division of Water Supply will work with states, communities and industries in the Ohio-Pennsylvania-West Virginia-New York area involved. The initial studies will cover the area drained by the Allegheny, Monongahela, Beaver, Muskingum, Hocking and Kanawha rivers, and the Ohio River itself upstream from the mouth of the Kanawha.

Object of the comprehensive program will be to assure the Ohio River basin of high quality water, Celebrezze said, which will help improve the economy, protect the public health and foster recreational facilities.

The announcement said acid mine drainage is probably the biggest pollution problem in the basin, and efforts will be made to economical means for its control and abatement.

Mother of 7 Georgia Tech Grads Is 'Honorary Grad'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A mother has been named an honorary graduate at Georgia Tech without attending a single class at the engineering school.

Elizabeth B. Ziegler earned the distinction as the mother of seven Tech graduates, all good students and now successful in their chosen fields.

In addition, her first grandson received his degree last year. With 22 more grandchildren already around, she could be eligible in time for some kind of special grandmother prize.

Mrs. Ziegler, a native of Stuttgart, Germany, was honored during a special ceremony in the presence of her seven sons, Tech officials announced Tuesday. It was the first time the Zieglers had all been together in eight years.

Except for the years of World War II, she had a son at Tech every year from 1927 until 1950 when the youngest was graduated.

"At one time we had three sons in Tech during the depression," she recalled. "That was the hardest time."

Her husband died in 1947 while two of the boys were students.

A daughter was graduated from nearby Agnes Scott College and now is Mrs. Clyde Dunn, wife of a missionary in Formosa.

The Zieglers arrived in this country in 1908 and settled in suburban College Park.

Dr. Waldemar T. Ziegler, regents professor of chemical engineering, Georgia Tech; Carl W., owner of a laundry and cleaning business, Weatherford, Tex.; W. Fred, superintendent at Swift Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ga.; Walter H., senior test engineer, Wright Aeronautical Corp., Woolbridge, N.J.; William R., owner and president, and Frank R., vice president, Cornwell Tool Co., Atlanta; and John M., sales engineer, Trane Co., Richmond, Va.

Officers Elected By Bible Class

The Harper Bible Class of the First EUB Church held a regular monthly meeting recently in the service center. An election of officers was held.

The following slate of officers will serve, Alvin Perdon, president; Ronald Nau, vice president; Mrs. Alvin Perdon, secretary; Mrs. Harry Stiers, treasurer; Mrs. Leroy Thomas, pianist; Howard Conley, teacher; Mrs. Ira Valentine, assistant teacher.

Mrs. Perdon used as the devotion theme, "Be Still Before the Lord". Mrs. Robert Dumm offered prayer.

There were 22 members present. The next meeting will be held November 24 in the service center. A special guest night will be observed and an auction will be held.

Jap Beetles Spread in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Japanese beetles appear to be spreading into areas of Ohio adjacent to those under federal quarantine, the State Agriculture Department said today.

Director Robert H. Terhune said approximately the eastern third of Ohio, plus most of Lucas and Hamilton counties and part of Butler County, presently is quarantined. Federal officials require inspection of plants leaving such areas.

Congress has authorized an expanded control program, Terhune said. Officials added that the State Agriculture Department's Division of Plant Industry probably will recommend that the 1963 legislature make money available to take advantage of federal matching funds in the expanded control program.

The beetles, which attack about 300 kinds of plants, were noted initially in the United States in 1916 and first spotted in Ohio 31 years ago.

Although Ohio has worked with the federal government for years, limited funds have made it pretty much a matter of "putting out small fires as they develop," the chief of the Division of Plant Industry, Harold L. Porter, said.

Surrounding states like Indiana, West Virginia and Michigan also have Japanese beetle problems, Porter said. Michigan plans to drop poisonous Dieldrin pellets from an airplane over two of its southern counties this week, but Terhune said such an approach—while used occasionally in the past—is more of a problem in Ohio because of population density.

Ohio is using ground application of anti-Japanese beetle poisons, and Terhune said there is hope that research will produce even more effective anti-beetle measures.

While the problem is a serious one for many Ohio farmers, the director said he gets a number of letters complaining about Japanese beetles from another group as well—golfers. The beetles sometimes attack the grass on courses, he explained.

Cupp Honored For 25 Years Purina Service

Employees of the local Ralston Purina Co. recently joined in a mass meeting to honor Kirk Cupp on the occasion of his 25th anniversary with the company.

A combination AM-FM clock radio was presented to Cupp by his fellow employees. A basket of fruit and Purina stock were presented on behalf of the officers and directors of the company for faithful service.

Cupp was hired at the local plant in 1937 and after working at various jobs in the mill, he moved into the mill office and has been engaged in buying activities as well as stock accounting work for the past 15 years.

In addition to the gifts which were presented to him, coffee and cake was served to all present.

Grange

SCIOTO

The Scioto Grange No. 2456 will meet 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Scioto School.

Following the business meeting the 4-H Club members will present a program and receive their achievement awards from the leaders of the group.

Bible College Open House Set Friday

The Circleville Bible College E. Ohio St., will feature an Open House Friday evening.

The local college students and faculty are busy preparing for inspection of the grounds and buildings by the general public during the annual affair.

A number of graduates of CBS occupy pastorates in Columbus, Uroana, Springfield, Delaware and other neighboring towns. In addition graduates are stationed in several mission countries throughout the world.

The administration building, library, dining room and dormitories will be open to public inspection from 7-9 p. m. Friday. Refreshments will be served at 9 p. m. and the Missionary Prayer Band will present a pageant in the college chapel from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

EARLIER in the evening, as a part of the celebration, the finalists in the current college ping pong tournament will meet. An exhibition game will be staged with faculty members participating.

Rev. G. H. Blackstone, registrar, extended an invitation to residents of Pickaway to attend the open house and become acquainted with work being done at the local college.

Young Adults Hold Meeting

The Young Adult Class of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church met Sunday in the home of Audrey Sabine.

Donald Watson, president, presided during the business meeting. Ronald Hawkes was in charge of Devotions.

The next class meeting will be held 7:30 p. m. November 29 in the home of Mrs. O. F. Gibbs.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Donald and Bonnie Watson, Ralph and Bethel Burns, Nancy and Shelby Dye, David and

Missing Boy Is Found in Institution

CINCINNATI (AP)—Walter Glen Tindle spent Tuesday night at the Allen House Children's Center while weary police shook their heads about the 9-year-old youngster they had sought for more than a week.

Policemen were making a door-to-door search of houses near Walter's home in the Over-the-Rhine section near Downtown Cincinnati when the word went out on police radio that the boy had been found just across the river in a juvenile detention home.

Walter vanished on Oct. 20 while his mother was shopping.

About the same time patrolman Kenneth Bush of Covington, Ky., police found a boy at a service station. The lad said his father had abandoned him after bringing him north on a fishing trip from Wartburg, Tenn. Bush took the boy—who gave his correct name and age — to the Kenton County Juvenile Detention Home.

There he stayed, while police and parents just across the river grew more and more frantic. Finally, after Police Chief Stanley Schrotel had ordered the homicide squad to take over the search, a matron at the home asked Walter about the same-named boy police were looking for.

That was late Tuesday afternoon, Walter started to cry, but wouldn't say he was the boy. Cincinnati authorities were notified.

CBC Registrar Attends Meet

The Rev. G. H. Blackstone, registrar of the Circleville Bible College, attended the 16th annual meeting of the Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges in Chicago last week.

Colleges admitted to full accreditation during the session included the Kentucky Christian College, Grayson, Ky.; Southeastern Bible College, Birmingham, Ala.; and Washington Bible College, Washington D. C.

The Accrediting Association meeting was attended by representatives from 38 accredited colleges, 20 delegates from associate colleges and 48 visitors from 31 non-member colleges.

There are now some 250 Bible institutes and colleges in the United States and Canada according to Rev. Blackstone. The AABC is the official accrediting agency for such colleges.

Mediators Seek To Avert Newspaper Strike in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal mediators, on their own initiative, have moved formally into negotiations in the disputes in the newspaper industry here.

Midnight tonight is the deadline for a threatened strike by news and commercial employees on any or all of seven daily papers.

Frank H. Brown, regional director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said Monday his office had entered the disputes first at the Daily News, the World Telegram & Sun, and the Post.

Each newspaper has its own contract.

Brown said the mediators acted on their own motion because of the receipt of information that negotiations between the newspapers

Upper Ohio River Basin Patrol Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service's Division of Water Supply is preparing a six-year program for water pollution control in the upper Ohio River Basin.

Headquarters for initial studies will be Wheeling, W.Va., according to announcement of the program Tuesday by Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze.

The Division of Water Supply will work with states, communities and industries in the Ohio-Pennsylvania-West Virginia-New York area involved. The initial studies will cover the area drained by the Allegheny, Monongahela, Beaver, Muskingum, Hocking and Kanawha rivers, and the Ohio River itself upstream from the mouth of the Kanawha.

Object of the comprehensive program will be to assure the Ohio River basin of high quality water, Celebrezze said, which will help improve the economy, protect the public health and foster recreational facilities.

The announcement said acid mine drainage is probably the biggest pollution problem in the basin, and efforts will be made to economical means for its control and abatement.

Mother of 7 Georgia Tech Grads Is 'Honorary Grad'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A mother has been named an honorary graduate at Georgia Tech without attending a single class at the engineering school.

Elizabeth B. Ziegler earned the distinction as the mother of seven Tech graduates, all good students and now successful in their chosen fields.

In addition, her first grandson received his degree last year. With 22 more grandchildren already around, she could be eligible in time for some kind of special grandmother prize.

Mrs. Ziegler, a native of Stuttgart, Germany, was honored during a special ceremony in the presence of her seven sons, Tech officials announced Tuesday. It was the first time the Zieglers

Officers Elected By Bible Class

The Harper Bible Class of the First EUB Church held a regular monthly meeting recently in the service center. An election of officers was held.

The following slate of officers will serve, Alvin Perdon, president; Ronald Nau, vice president; Mrs. Alvin Perdon, secretary; Mrs. Harry Styers, treasurer; Mrs. Leroy Thomas, pianist; Howard Conley, teacher; Mrs. Ira Valentine, assistant teacher.

Mrs. Perdon used as the devotion theme, "Be Still Before the Lord". Mrs. Robert Dumm offered prayer.

There were 22 members present. The next meeting will be held November 24 in the service center. Annual guest night will be observed and an auction will be held.
